PA NEW OBSERVES

Several suggestions have been made to Pa. News that a flag should fly daily from the pole in the public square in these war times.

Poiks who left their machines out any length of time during the night found a thin film of ice coated on the windows and windshield. A frosty fog covered everything and froze to metal and glass.

It is reported that two boys left school Wednesday with the intention of joining the U. S. service, for a crack at the Japanese and company. Another boy came home and told his mother he was going to sign up. He was thirteen years of age. His mother knew he would have to produce his birth certificate, so she let him go, knowing he would be back.

There was no fog at four o'clock this morning, said a city bus operator, but between that time and five, fog filled the air very heavily. It was with difficulty anything could be seen beyond the curb. He said he hoped he had not passed any passengers.

Some cities are still getting taxicabs and buses, it is apparent from the movement through this city of such vehicles during the week. A considerable number of Sky-View (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Vested by congress with the most sweeping powers any wartime commander-in-chief has ever possessed over the very life and economy of the American people, President Roosevelt moved swiftly on many fronts today to insure an ultimate knockout blow for Japan, Germany, Italy and their satellites.

A succession of new emergency measures were being prepared at unbelievable speed—measures that will soon bring home to every citizen a full realization he has a personal stake in the deadliest war of all history.

Allied Conference Seen
Fragmentary information that has cleared through censorship in many sections of the world further indicated that a meeting is imminent—probably in Washington—between the chief military and economic spokesmen for the United States, Great Britain, Russia, China and the Netherlands.

If broad hints from London in particular are to be believed, President Roosevelt soon will be presiding over a meeting from which may evolve a supreme war council of the nations joined in common battle front against the Axis powers. In Washington, there was a "black-out" silence on these reports.

Accord On Martinique
The United States meanwhile, has reached a naval accord with the Vichy government of Martinique, French outpost in the Caribbean. Admiral Frederick J. Horne, a navy "trouble-shooter," is believed to have negotiated the accord with Vichy Admiral Georges Robert, high commissioner of the French antilles. Little War Activity In Area Is Reported During Last Twenty-Four Hours

By S. A. WYKES

SINGAPORE, Dec. 19.—Heavy casualties inflicted on the Japanese in northern Malaya have stopped the Nipponese dead in their tracks, the British eastern high command indicated today.

A noon war communique reported virtual cessation of Jap military.

The British communique said: "It was a very quiet night. There is nothing to report from either front."

"There has been marked inactivity on the part of the enemy in the last 24 hours."

Heavy Casualties
"This is probably due to the very heavy casualties received by the enemy in both killed and wounded which together with the exhaustion of the troops engaged has necessitated a pause."

MANILA, Dec. 19.—Japanese air raiders attacked the Cavite naval base again today but were driven off by heavy anti-aircraft fire and a swarm of American interceptor planes.

Extent of the damage was not announced but was believed to be slight since two waves of Jap bombers were broken up and forced to flee after the briefest of visits.

The first flight swept over the navy yard in bright sunshine about noon, flying at a height of more than 25,000 feet.

Anti-aircraft guns swung into action at once and interceptor planes roared into the air to give battle. (Continued On Page Twenty-four)

Lt. Gen. MacArthur To Be Promoted For Heroic Stand

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—As a reward for the heroic stand in the Philippines, President Roosevelt today sent to the senate the nomination of Lt. Gen. Douglas MacArthur to be a full general in the United States army.

MacArthur, commander of the American army in the Far East, held the rank of full general once before when he was the chief of staff. The only other generals now are Chief of Staff George C. Marshall and John J. Pershing, retired.

Another session will be held this afternoon.

The senate passed a house-approved measure last night by a vote of 79 to 2, after revising it to subject males from 19 through 44 to military service. Only Sens. Downey (D) and Johnson (R), both of California, voted against the bill.

Both branches of congress agreed to provisions for a registration of man-power from 18 through the age of 64. The house bill would subject those 21 to 44 to military service, while the senate favored the 19-year minimum.

House leaders indicated that their representatives in a joint conference committee would seek a compromise making the minimum military age 20 years.

Grave fears also were expressed regarding the fate of isolated Penang off the west coast of Malaya.

Military quarters in London said the Japs have carried out "considerable landings" in the island—apparently under terrific covering artillery and aerial bombardments.

Japs Rush Troops In Boats Across Narrow Strait From Kowloon

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The Berlin radio broadcast a Tokyo dispatch at 6.10 p. m. today (12.10 p. m. E. S. T.) stating that British forces still hold "key positions" at Hong Kong.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Fierce fighting on the island fortress of Hong Kong was reported officially today at 3:45 p. m. (9:45 a. m., EST) with the small British garrison still holding out against a large scale assault by Japanese troops who were landed at various points.

Meanwhile, it was confirmed that the British garrison on strategic Penang Island had been evacuated safely and the island surrendered to the Japanese.

London, Dec. 19.—British official quarters today said there was no confirmation of reports circulated in the United States and alleged to have emanated from the Saigon radio that Japanese troops have captured the fortress of Hong Kong.

TOKYO, Dec. 19.—(By Official Japanese Wireless)

—Supported by a 12-hour artillery barrage, Japanese forces landed in Hong Kong island today in an all-out effort to seize the British Far Eastern stronghold in a lightning attack.

The Japs rushed across the narrow strait separating the Kowloon (mainland) area from the island and landed from small boats below Jardines Hill and at two other points, according to claims received in Tokyo.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Military authorities in London admitted the Japanese have effected "considerable" landings in Hong Kong and predicted the possibility that the famous fortress may fall.

I read the news dispatches and I see some funny names, and I try to get them straightened in my mind, but the change is much too rapid in these present marian games, and pronunciation now is far behind. There are isles that twist the larynx with their names that don't make sense, there are towns that twist your tonsils in a knot, and you struggle with the vowels that seem awfully out of place, and the chances are you're wrong as like as not. So I read them and pronounce them in the way that I like best, and perhaps I get them wrong but let me say, there are plenty other people who are just as wrong as me, weather's brighter and it's back to forty-eight.

Serious Threat To Jap Rear Lines

Chinese May Cause Trouble

Ten Chinese Divisions Are Concentrated Northwest Of Canton

ARTILLERY DUEL IS IN PROGRESS

(International News Service) TOKYO, Dec. 19.—(By Official Japanese Wireless)—A serious threat to the rear lines of Japanese forces attacking the British stronghold of Hong Kong was acknowledged in Tokyo today.

Tomokazu Hori, official spokesman of the Japanese information board, announced 10 Chinese divisions (at least 150,000 men) and also a "few thousand" Chinese irregulars are concentrated northwest of Canton, near Hong Kong.

This admission came from Hori as the Japanese radio set forth the claim that Japanese forces have occupied half of Hong Kong island. (Editor's Note: This appeared to be another of the extravagant claims the Japanese have been sending out in recent days. A British radio broadcast picked up by NBC said: "There is no reliable news of any change in the position of Hong Kong.")

The British broadcast added that the strategic British far eastern naval base and crown colony still is valiantly resisting the Japanese onslaught. It said:

Artillery Duel
("The artillery duel still is going on between the island guns and those of the Japanese on the 'Mowloon' mainland.")

"Yesterday British guns destroyed one section of the Japanese artillery and silenced several other batteries."

"Yesterday Hong Kong had two more air raids, but no serious damage was done. The civil population, despite air and land bombardment, remains as calm as ever."

The Japanese radio version claimed half of Hong Kong island had been occupied by the "yellow army" by 11 a. m. (local time).

The Domei (Japanese) news agency said Japanese forces landed on Hong Kong island at 10 p. m. yesterday and within two and a half hours occupied Jardine hill, silencing guns in many defense positions.

An earlier Domei dispatch from Kowloon claimed Jap army and navy forces had made "successful landings at several points in Hong Kong."

their withdrawal on the northwestern Malay front below the island stronghold of Penang.

All indications pointed to a furious clash with Japanese units which have advanced 100 miles into Malaya from the Thailand border.

Heavy reinforcements were rushed to the new defense line as the British inflicted heavy losses on the infiltrating Japs in the steaming, insect ridden jungles.

The present British line is about 15 miles south of Penang, the strategic port and naval stronghold four miles off the western Malay coast.

Singapore has been out of communication with Penang more than 24 hours, but the island is still believed in British hands.

The latest official communique said the Japanese have not yet contacted the new line. It added that in the Kelantan war zone in north-eastern Malaya no new activity had occurred since the British repulsed a Japanese attack with heavy casualties to the invaders.

The same newspaper reported from Sydney that the Australian volunteer defense corps will be called up immediately to guard beaches against surprise enemy landings.

NO AGREEMENT ON DRAFT BILL

for a bill which would make 19-year-olds youths liable to military service.

The senate measure struck out provisions in existing draft law setting up rules for exemptions for dependency, and giving the selective service administration wide discretion in this field.

An amendment offered by Sen. Clark (D) Mo., under which legislation of all men who have died in the service since Oct. 8, 1940—including the victims of the surprise attack in Hawaii—would receive $5,000 insurance was adopted. The amendment extended time for service men to take out insurance.

Draft board officials estimated that 41,000,000 persons will be registered to provide a vast reservoir for an army which is expected to expand to several millions before the war is ended.

TOKYO REPORTS TROOPS LANDING ON HONG KONG

ing, it was claimed the Japanese vanguards sent up flares signalling they had succeeded in landing.

Reinforcements then rushed across the strait to support the first assault troops.

Latest dispatches received in Tokyo claimed the Japanese were pursuing the British defenders into the mountainous region in the southern part of Hong Kong Island.

Japanese newspapers carried banner-line accounts of the landings in Hong Kong and the Kokumin boasted:

"Rising Sun flag unfurls over Hong Kong."

Meanwhile, Domei (Japanese) News Agency reports from Saigon, French Indo-China, said it was reported the British High Command had announced that the northwestern region of Malaya has "fallen under complete control of the Japanese army."

EDITOR'S NOTE: The latest Singapore communique said Japanese military activity in Malaya has come virtually to a standstill in the last 24 hours as a result of terrific casualties inflicted on the Japanese and the exhaustion of the Jap troops.

Meanwhile, Foreign Minister Togo sent messages to the foreign ministers of four neutral South American countries denying that Japan has any designs on South American nations.

WARNS LIQUOR IS NOT A REMEDY FOR SNAKEBITE

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga.—"If you get bitten by a snake, don't try to restore your nerve with a slug of liquor" was the advice handed out by Georgia's Wildlife Director Zack D. Cravey, who warned that liquor is anything but a remedy for snakebite.

Snakes are plentiful this season according to reports furnished him by Forest Rangers who asserted that snakes are now on the move for what "old timers" refer to as "hibernation quarters."

Since poisonous snakes leave a single pair of wounds and the non-poisonous, a series of scratches Director Cravey advised hunters and farmers to wear high-topped boots and be prepared with a first aid kit if they are in "bad" snake country.

AIR NAVIES ARE VITAL

OUR rather serious naval losses are mitigated by our destruction of Japanese warships and by our growing strength in the air. And this is vital. Although sea navies, as the experts agree, will still be important, air navies with their increasing speed, range and striking power, will become more and more essential.

It was air power, as we have seen, that struck the first blow in this Japanese war. The Japs therein were very modern—copying their modernity, as usual, from another country. Our own experts realize now that, despite the present prominence of sea navies, bombing planes will largely replace battle-ships and the big fight may be settled in the skies.

This is where America is fortunate. The air is our own element. We created the airplane. Although we allowed foreign powers for a time to take the leadership in this field, we are now forging ahead. Our war plane industry, developed to supply the Allies in the present war, has settled the patterns and given us equipment and method. It is now expanding enormously.

We shall dominate the air, filling the skies with powerful fighting and transport and convoy planes able to fly any distance and deliver their powerful blows anywhere. With them and our allies, we shall win the war.

So the cocky little Japs are fooled. We are already going strong, although like John Paul Jones we "have not yet begun to fight."

THE INEVITABLE HAS HAPPENED

The unprovoked attack of Japan on American possessions simply marked the occurrence of the inevitable. For many months, most authorities have been convinced that we could not avoid formal participation in the war that now engulfs all the continents. The big question was when and where the spark would be ignited. The Japanese militarists, spurred by their Axis comrades, have answered that question for us and for the world.

The American people enter this war with a sense of grim and bitter necessity. No thinking man wants war. It is to the great credit of our government that it did everything possible, within the bounds of our national honor and interests, to maintain peace. That effort failed through no fault of those who administer our governmental affairs. It failed because the ruthless conquerors of our time are bent on world domination. Nothing less can satisfy them. It is all or nothing. And so, at last, the democratic world is allied in arms against the totalitarian world in the greatest war history has ever known.

Here in America the task is clear. The American people will support their government to the limit, and they will make whatever sacrifices prove necessary. The issue of intervention versus non-intervention is as dead as last year's news. The isolationist leaders, displaying that patriotism which characterizes all true Americans, however different their opinions, have pledged their full support to the President and the nation. From this time on, it is the job of all to show the world that a free American is more than a match for any adversary.

The soldiers and the sailors who fight in this war carry into battle a traditional freedom. They are not the unthinking, "helling" subjects of a dictator. They are not slaves, living and dying like puppets at the whim of a master. They have been reared in the freest of all great nations, under the ideals which Lincoln called, "The last, best hope of earth." They know what they are fighting for. They know how precious freedom is. And they know the sorrowful truth that blood must be shed if freedom is to be preserved.

Back of the fighting men of America will be a production machine unparalleled on earth. Labor and industry will not shirk the gigantic task that time and circumstance have given it. The price of failure would be the death of freedom. The days ahead will be hard and bitter, but no one can doubt what the eventual end will be—victory for freedom, for a way of life that respects the dignity of man.

It is all there in one word—freedom. Freedom of speech, freedom of press, freedom of worship, freedom of enterprise. These are what we possess, and these are what we are fighting to save and to perpetuate forever.

American industry is ready for this war. Go down the roster of our great private enterprises—the railroads, the power systems, the steel mills, the motor makers, the coal and metal mines, the oil wells and refining plants, the airplane factories and the rest. American enterprise represents a veritable miracle of preparedness. And now the tempo of production will be stepped up again and again. There can be no "business as usual," "strikes as usual," or "politics as usual," from now on.

Let there be no despair. Let there be, instead, uncompromising determination. War has been forced on us. It has been forced on us by a nation to which we offered firm friendship, economic co-operation, aid in solving its problems—everything, in short, except the right to pillage and destroy and conquer. Now our enemies will learn how free men, backed by the limitless resources of our free enterprise system, can acquire themselves in battle.

ONE WAY TO HELP

All Americans cannot don the uniform during the present emergency. There are circumstances which make it necessary for them to continue with the prosaic responsibilities of their normal lives. They cannot help by going into war industries or by manning a lookout post or guarding a bridge. They are kept close to their routine tasks by the restrictions of necessity.

But most Americans can and should help in a variety of ways to bring the nation safely through this period of grave crisis. If they cannot give of their time or their energies they can at least aid with their money, no matter how small the amount may be.

This war is certainly to be the most costly enterprise upon which the American nation has ever embarked. The money must come from the people in the form of taxes and loans. Purchase of defense stamps and bonds serves two important purposes. There is no safer investment available today and, in addition, purchase of these government obligations constitutes a contribution toward defeat of the enemy aggressors.

Some folks say it is better to keep quiet than to be complaining all the time. Perhaps so, but keeping mum doesn't seem to do the oyster much good.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

CHILD MAY BE MISBEHAVE IF IGNORED.

"I don't see why Wembo acts that way," observes his humiliated father, who adds, "he doesn't do such things when we are alone." The father may be putting up a sham alibi in self-defense. It is probable that Wembo is no worse than he usually is. The parents at this time are peculiarly sensitive to his bad conduct. It is the disapproval of their friends which arouses them. On the other hand, the father actually may have been stating a fact when he said that the lad had never been so naughty.

Most guests and hosts judge a child's general training by the way he acts in their presence. While such assumptions are approximately correct, there are some exceptions. An occasional child, whose behavior has been considered good by the family and close neighbors, may actually appear, in the presence of strangers, to be badly spoiled.

Bid For Attention

Suppose, for instance, Wembo's father and mother and the neighbors have been very chummy with him, answered all his questions, and encouraged him to express himself freely.

Suppose they have guest for dinner, and the parents in their efforts to prove hospitable turn their whole attention to the company for fifteen or twenty minutes, and suppose, moreover, these guests make no effort to include the child in their conversation.

The lad attempts to get an audience once or twice, perhaps but fails. He is wounded by the unaccustomed treatment. He just cannot bear to be ignored so long. Even his parents have said nothing to him or about him for a period which seems a day. He makes up his mind to get attention. Already very angry, he easily can show some temper. He does. His parents are chagrined. They scarcely know what to do.

The boy senses their predicament and finds that the guests have turned their eyes on him. His parents, too, or at least his mother, or even punish him. No matter what they do, he is the center of the stage. He has captured every one's attention. Any pain he may have to endure is much to be preferred by him to the agony of being ignored. He has hit upon a formula that works. Next time he happens to be in a similar situation he applies the formula again.

Don't Ignore Child

When you go with your child to another's home, or when you have guests in yours, see to it that the child is not ignored for long intervals, and that he feels himself a welcome member of the group. Don't, on the other hand, let him get too much attention. Try to turn him into activities at which he can earn worthy approval. If your child usually conducts himself properly he is very loath to punish him when in the presence of strangers he breaks forth in bad behavior. Study the problem with great care and try to avoid the things which will annoy him. If he only repeats some bad behavior before strangers which you have let pass by at other times, don't torture him just to protect your personal pride. Prepare yourself and him, day by day when there is no company, for the times when there will be.

A selected list of books on manners for children and adults may be had by writing me at 235 E. 45th St., New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.

Solving Parent Problems

Where may I get a chart giving desirable hours of sleep for the child at various age levels?

A. You can secure one without cost to you by writing me at 235 E. 45th Street, N. Y. City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

DINNER AT SEVEN

Dinner at seven so reads the line. By which we all are asked to dine. And mother and I, from year to year.

All winter long at seven appear. Only to stand about and wait, Watching the clock hand climb to eight.

Watching it fall and rise to nine. Before the host says: "Time to dine!"

The season's on with the same old cry: "Dinner at seven, and please reply." For friends have debts which they wish to pay.

And "dinner at seven" seems the only way.

The mother goes out for a new hair-do.

Or a gown of purple or rose or blue.

And I must wear, and I don't know why.

A low cut vest and a black bow tie.

Dinner at seven, and I know it's nine.

They're really picked as the hour to dine.

And I know as soon as we're fed, they'll say:

"Get settled some six-hand bridge to play."

Then some woman will mutter: "For goodness sake!"

Whoever taught you such bids to make!"

And Nellie will whisper: "Again you're wrong!"

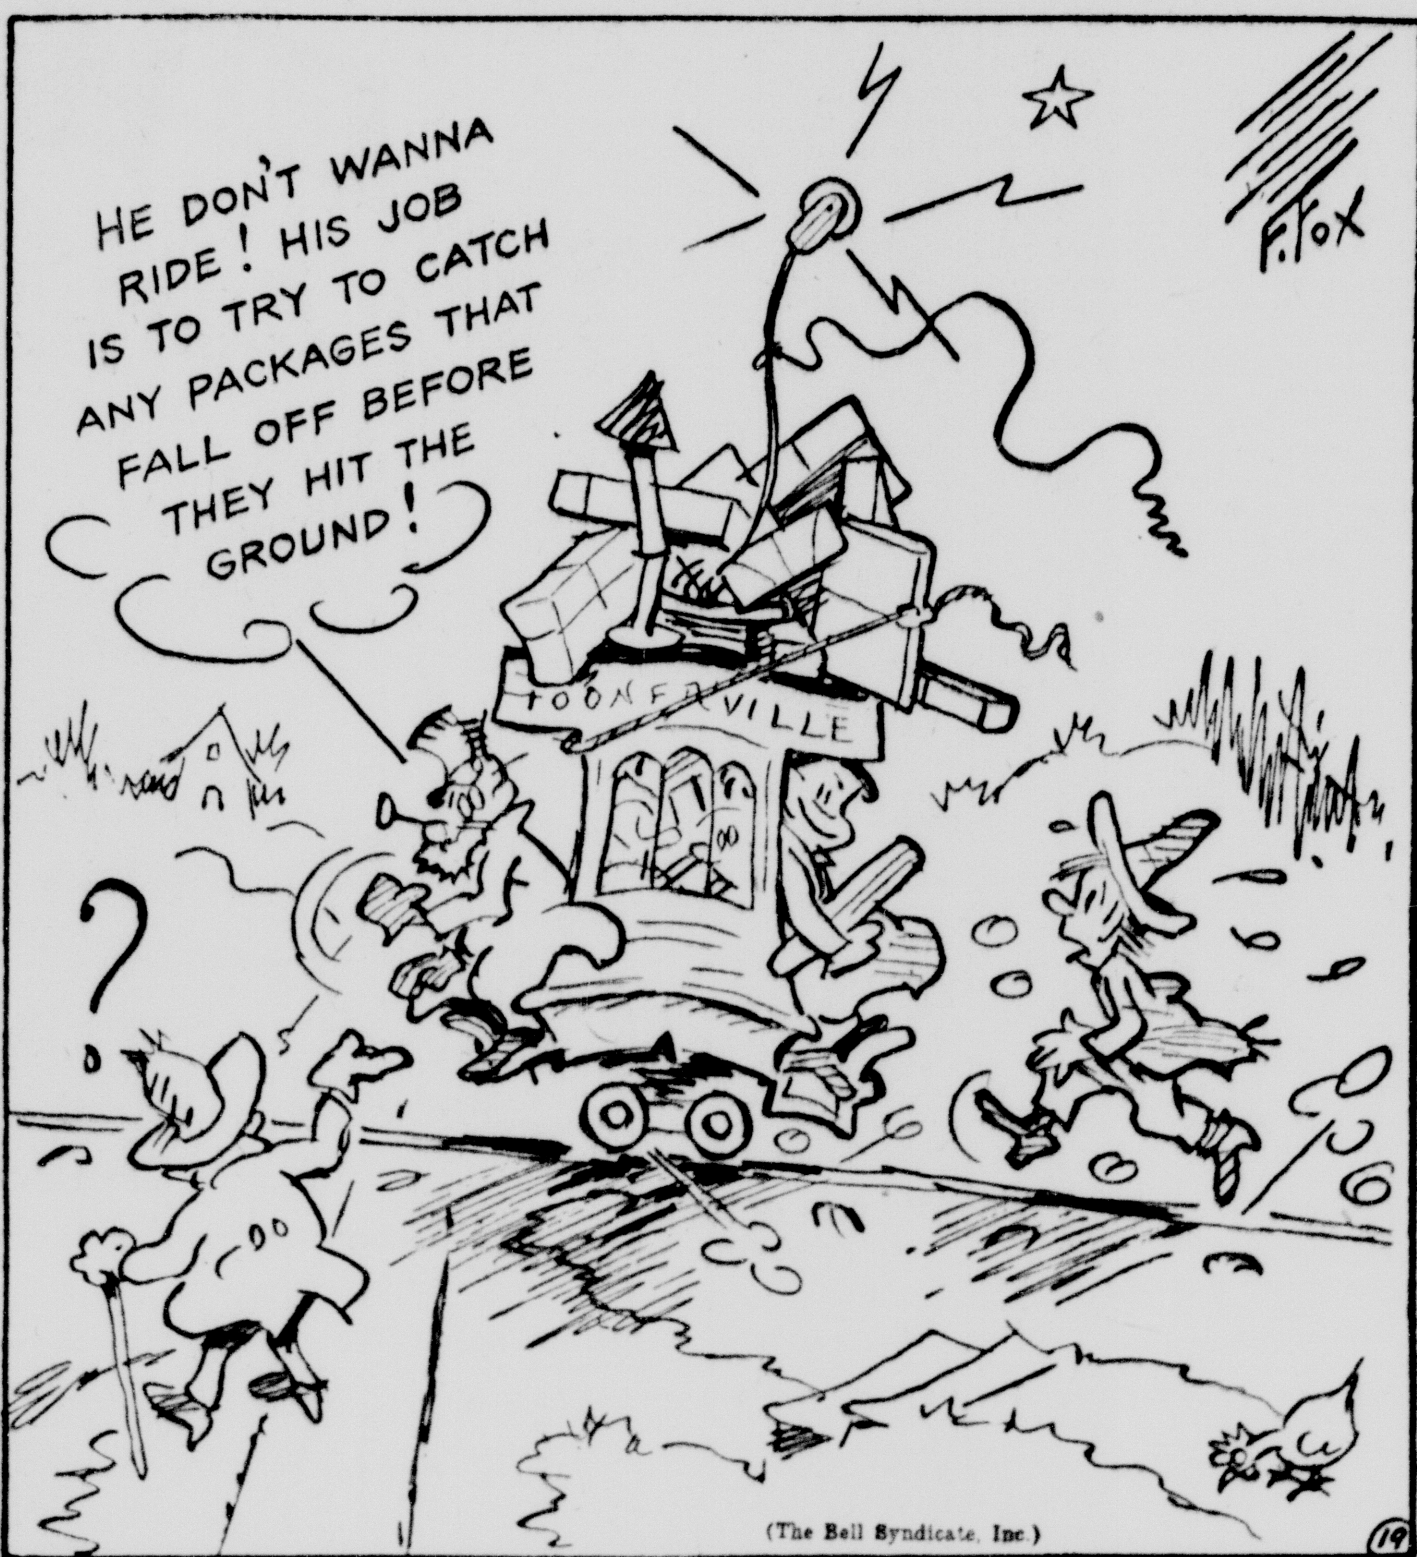

And this is to happen all winter long.

Question: The bride's family had made plans for a very elaborate church wedding and hotel reception. The invitations were engraved and a substantial deposit paid to the hotel to reserve the space for the reception. Other details had been arranged at a moderate expense. A circumstance taking place in the groom's family made a postponement of the wedding necessary. Just as the invitations were to be mailed. Would good taste prescribe that the groom reimburse the bride's family for the expense incurred in these preparations? — George.

Answer: The bridegroom-to-be should emphatically offer to reimburse the bride's parents for the expenditures, since the postponement resulted from an occurrence in his family.

One fellow hadn't taken any part in the discussion, but just stood by with a half-smile on his face.

LaGuardia Is Doing Amazing Defense Job
Carries On Dual Task With Great Vigor
Fiorelli Proves Self Super Live Wire

By CHARLES F. STEWART

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—How Fiorelli H. LaGuardia has managed to be civilian defense administrator of the United States and mayor of New York simultaneously is a puzzle to everybody.

He's a wonder at his civilly defense job, though.

That he isn't neglectful of his mayoralty is a question for New Yorkers to answer.

Anyway, you never hear it so much as whispered that he's of Italian parentage, which he is, however. Nevertheless, there never was a more deeply-dyed American than he is. His name's Italian, he speaks Italian and he looks Italian, but his popularity is tremendous. If anything, it's more so now than it was before Italy declared war on us and we reciprocated.

There's no second generation German corresponding to him, and certainly no Jap, of however many generations descent.

After this war is over it wouldn't surprise me to see him nominated for the presidency and I wouldn't bet against his election, either. But what ticket he'd run on is a problem. He's held office as a Republican, a Socialist, an American Laborite and a Fusionist; he'd just as soon be called a Democrat, and he could easily qualify as a Progressive of the elder Senator La Follette's type. Or he could be an Independent, like Senator George W. Norris.

Civilian defense naturally should have been difficult to organize. Mustering the country for war has a popular appeal to it, but teaching folk how to hunt their holes in the event of air raids, to extinguish fires, to rescue bomb victims and to repair damages in hot haste doesn't suggest anything so romantic as getting out and shooting and being shot at.

Endless Enthusiasm

Yet Fiorelli has succeeded in putting no end of enthusiasm into it.

It isn't mere defense, according to his description; it's an offensive line of activity.

The truth is that the cuss is a great man. In the hour of representatives he was one of a small group who were recognized as liberals, but as rather too liberal to register among historic statesmen.

He's put himself across now, though.

He's an extraordinary combination. He's liberal who isn't a bit cuckoo. He's unpretentiously a worker and he works to amazing good effect—no last motion. He's honest, but lots of honest men are nothing but honest. He is. He's got the goods to go with it. And he's supremely pungent and convincing.

A combined New Yorker and westerner, he knows the whole country.

Some of the bad language he used during his last mayoralty campaign got him momentarily a bit criticized, but he's lived that down, with his record as a civilian defense administrator.

It's advertised him from coast to coast, from the Canadian border to the Rio Grande and in everything from the biggest cities to the tiniest hamlets.

He got his civilian defense designation by virtue of his chairmanship of the national organization of mayors, which he acquired as chief executive of the country's biggest city. New York's mayors haven't all been ideal officials, but Fiorelli's been a model. And my! What a corker he's been in getting civilian defense a-going!

He's in Washington these days more than he's in Manhattan.

That's why I've suggested that his attention, as a mayor, may have been more or less distracted, but there hasn't been any kicking about it.

If you cross the street when the light is red you will get this:

"Please don't cross against the light. You know that is not quite right! Put much more value on your life! The driver may be someone's wife!"

And if you go faster than the legal speed limit, this is what you will be given:

"When in your car, please watch your speed. For haste, you know, makes waste indeed. Cooperate and remember to save a life in December."

According to the police these reminders are doing more good than hauling people into court.

Everybody is nervous to some extent.

We all have a central nervous system which conditions our activities. Those activities are outward and inward in function.

Outward acting parts have to do with voluntary, conscious actions. They also include the mental activities and associative memory.

The inward acting system governs internal affairs of the body. This is done with conscious direction of the individual.

Inward action supplies nerve impulse to glands and involuntary muscles.

It regulates the temperature of the inside of the body.

It steps up the intake of oxygen during strenuous organs.

WAR AND TELEPHONE SERVICE

Prior to "Pearl Harbor" your telephone company was handling a record-breaking traffic.

Since then the Bell System Traffic has jumped—as much as 30 per cent and 40 per cent on some of the important Long Distance routes.

Switchboards and circuits which were taxed to the limit are at many points pretty much swamped—day and evening—with no let-up in sight.

Particular difficulty is experienced with calls to and from Washington, the Pacific coast, Atlanta and New York.

The heavy reliance on our service placed by Government, the Army, the Navy, Civilian Defense and Defense Industry is known to everyone.

The welfare of the whole people depends on those agencies.

Your own telephone service cannot stand up if the armed forces and the industries which make their supplies fail to secure all the telephone service they need, when they need it. Already they suffer delays.

This company's duty to civilian users is to press for the observance of these requirements:

- 1 Confine your telephone usage, particularly Long Distance, to absolutely essential calls.
- 2 End your telephone conversations as quickly as possible.
- 3 Don't use your telephone during or immediately after alarms.
- 4 On Christmas Eve and Christmas Day confine your telephone greetings to the absolute minimum, and make way for the armed forces.

Pennsylvania Faces Sixth

GOVERNOR RACE

HARRISBURG, Dec. 19.—Pennsylvania today faces the sixth war election campaign in its history.

Although politics is now taking a back seat to the war in Pennsylvania, there is every indication that it will come back with a bang before the end of the conflict.

If precedent is any criterion, Pennsylvania's gubernatorial campaign will be hotly waged, despite the war, in 1942, when numerous state officials, as well as 33 congressmen, 208 assemblymen and 25 state senators, will be elected.

Next year's political campaign was rapidly coming to the fore just before war broke out between the United States and Japan, Germany and Italy. Candidates were jockeying for support and hot fights were shaping up within the Republican and Democratic parties.

The war is expected to put a damper on politics for the time being. For one thing, politicians will find it difficult for a time to compete with the news of the war and it's a truism that you can't have a real political campaign without publicity.

But once the country takes the war in its stride, the political campaign is expected to surge toward the front again and probably reach the usual fever stage as the May primary election draws near.

War elections are not uncommon in the history of the state and nation. They have been held in Pennsylvania in 1812, 1863, 1864, 1898 and 1918. Now another one will be held in the war year of 1942.

CAPTURES HUGE EAGLE

(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Cal.—One of the largest Golden Eagles seen near Central California was captured bare handed by two Los Angeles men near Truckee as they sped along the highway on a motorcycle. The men—Virgil Brockman and Donald Mitchell—saw the huge eagle swoop down from a ledge near the road, barehandedly missed them in its diving flight and apparently was stunned temporarily as it struck a clump of brush.

Care Is Urged In Putting Up Lights

Safety Rules Are Suggested By Electrical Inspectors Association

AVOID FIRES AND SHOCKS IS WARNING

City Electrician Rex Hughes has received a set of safety rules recommended by the International Association of Electrical Inspectors for the installation of Christmas tree lights and outdoor installations.

It is just as easy to make these Christmas lighting installations safe as not to, and fires and shocks can be avoided by proper installation.

The simple set of rules follows:

Indoor Decorative Lighting
When you take the lighting set off the closet shelf, inspect it for insulation weaknesses. If the insulation is damaged or if sockets are broken, discard the set and get a new one.

Screw some of the lamps into the sockets and see if any "live" metal of the sockets or lamps is left exposed, which could contact metal tinsel and cause a short-circuit.

See if the wire insulation is intact where the wires enter the sockets. If the insulation will slide back on the wires, a short-circuit is possible.

If tinsel reflectors are used, see that no metallic contact is made with the "live" metal of the sockets.

If an extension cord is necessary to light the tree, see that it is of approved quality. Approved extension cords, like approved cords on appliances, are marked with the label of Underwriters' Laboratories.

If you want to surround the base of the tree with "snow," buy one of the non-combustible materials readily available. Do not use cotton. If practicable, mount the tree in a pail of water. It will stay fresher and will not dry out and become so inflammable.

Outdoor Decorations
For outdoor decorations use only sets designed for outdoor use.

Don't connect the wires to the lighting circuit until the installation is complete. If readjustment is necessary, turn off the current first. Special care must be exercised in handling electrical things out of doors, to avoid shocks.

Mount lamp sockets downward so rain and snow cannot leak in. (Water is a conductor of electricity.)

Extension cords should be of the approved, rubber-sheathed type. Do not use brass-shelled sockets on extension cords. Use sockets and plugs made of insulating materials.

Asbestos insulated cords, such as used on heating appliances should never be used out of doors or in damp locations. The insulation will absorb water.

In selecting either indoor or outdoor decorative lighting sets, see that they are approved by Underwriters' Laboratories.

Williamson Tells Of War Precaution

In a letter to President Fred L. Rentz, of The News, I. A. Williamson, of 635 1/2 Linden avenue, Long Beach, Calif., former Croton resident, tells of the precautions being taken on the West Coast against any surprise attack from the Japanese.

Mr Williamson's letter follows:

Long Beach, Calif.
December 14, 1941

"Dear Fred:

"Since last Sunday, when the dogs of war were unleashed in the great Pacific Ocean the city of Long Beach, and all other towns on the west coast, are taking every precaution. The activities are unusual.

"We have experienced three nights of real blackout. Looking in every direction, you couldn't see a light. It was like looking into a great black pit in a dark basement. To be out in this darkness gives one a rather creepy feeling.

"With all business places closing at 5 o'clock it sure put a crimp in the Christmas shopping at night, but no doubt they make up for it in the daytime. There are a lot of jittery people here, and many of them are leaving, mostly those, however, who were just here for the winter. They seem to think we are a good mark for enemy bombers, so they are getting out while they can. Many others think there isn't any danger of a bombing attack, but in times like these, anything can happen and there is no telling what may come to pass. Some seem to think that our great oil industries, and airplane factories, and our harbor would be objects of attack from the air by enemy bombers. But a full week has passed and as yet, nothing has happened to excite the people.

"There is a great deal of activity going on in army and navy circles, and the scouting system is well organized, so the people will be warned of any emergency.

"New rules for automobiles are in effect when there is a blackout signal given. They must pull to one side of the road and stop, to give any transport carrier the right of way.

"The declaration of war has silenced the Spit and Argue club to some extent, as they are not so outspoken as they were. Most of them were for the overthrow of the capitalist system. The declaration of war against Japan is having its effect on the Jap growers. I was up in the open market yesterday, and while two-thirds of the stands are conducted by Japs, none of them seemed to be doing much selling.

"James Elder Hunter, one of the members of the Ramblers club passed on last week, but all other members are doing well. Hope to be back to see old friends this summer. I will close wishing all a Merry Christmas and Very Happy New Year.

I remain as ever
I. A. WILLIAMSON."

Women's Auxiliary Of Medical Society Plans "Health For Defense" Meeting

Women's Auxiliary to the Lawrence County Medical association gathered for a tea on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. W. Perry Jr., in conjunction with the health committee of the Woman's club, for the purpose of promoting a public program on January 12 to be featured in the auditorium of senior high school.

The January 12 meeting, a "Health for National Defense" program, will be sponsored by the Auxiliary to the Lawrence County Medical society, the Woman's club of New Castle, the Lawrence County Medical association, and the state department of health. It will be free to the public, as an important stepping stone in this day's emergency program.

Mrs. John Elliott, president of the Woman's club, will preside and Dr. H. C. Harper will give the address of welcome. Greetings will be given by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the public schools of this city. Highlighting the program will be two prominent speakers, Dr. Andrew W. Fuller, director of Heart House of Valencia, who will speak on "Heart Disease of Children," and Dr. Lyle M. Nelson, member of faculty of medicine at the University of Pittsburgh.

At yesterday's affair, the assemblage had Mrs. Edna Pearson of the state department of health of Pittsburgh as their guest. She spoke regarding the January 12 program, and urged that New Castle residents, federated clubs and other organizations give their ultimate support by attending. She ably assisted in arranging the final details.

An informal social period rounded out the afternoon's festivities, with tea and dainty refreshments being served.

Last year San Joaquin Valley, Calif., had 252,000 acres of cotton that produced 200,000 bales with a return of $19,000,000.

Major Powers
To Unify Plans

May Have Conference In Washington On General War Strategy

By KINGSBURG SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—"High personages" of the major powers with whom the United States is associated today are expected to assemble in Washington shortly for a momentous conference that will draft unified plans of grand strategy to defeat the Axis.

The United States, Great Britain, Soviet Russia, the Netherlands and China are expected to be represented in the discussions for unification of major war plans.

Preliminary discussions may be held in Moscow between representatives of the British and Soviet governments before the Washington meeting.

However, the main plans for the major war strategy that is to be followed in bringing about the defeat of Germany, Italy and Japan will be drafted in the American capital.

American officials observed a stony silence concerning plans for the meeting in Washington, but diplomatic sources and London news dispatches, which passed the British censorship indicated the conference may take place within a short time.

New Commander
Assumes Charge
Out In HonoluluBy RICHARD HALLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HONOLULU, Dec. 19.—Lieut. Gen. Delos C. Emmons today took over his duties as commander of the army's Hawaiian department and military governor of Hawaii, as Honolulu rushed completion of repairs to bomb-damaged buildings.

General Emmons, succeeding Lieut. Gen. Walter C. Short, yesterday paid his first official visit to Territorial Governor J. B. Poindexter, and today Governor Poindexter was to return the visit at the busy commander's headquarters.

Principal topic of official discussion today was the adoption of daylight saving time in Hawaii, due to the probable continuation of night blackouts. Manila put daylight time into effect several days ago.

Moving clocks ahead one hour in Hawaii would allow workers to reach home before nightfall. The territorial legislature adopted daylight saving time eight years ago, but the measure was rescinded when it was decided the system was unsuited for the "playground of the Pacific."

Munnerlyn, assisted by Mrs. Munnerlyn, Mrs. Sally Watkins and Mrs. Emma Taylor.

Members of the senior choir of the Second Baptist church will furnish the music for the mass meeting this evening in that church

Federal Agents
Sent Into Plants

Axis Nationals Have Interest In Some Plants In Eastern U. S. It Is Stated

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—In what was thought to be the first move of its kind in the country since the outbreak of World War 2, federal authorities today assigned agents to supervise the activities of some 20 or 25 manufacturing plants and factories in eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware.

It was explained by treasury department officials that Axis nationals have an interest in these plants and that the agents were moved into them to prevent possible sabotage in the plants, all of which are producing defense products, and to insure continuance of maximum production.

The step was taken without any fanfare. Authorities said it was quite likely that employees in most of the plants did not yet know that agents were in the scene.

The U. S. attorney's office in Philadelphia said the treasury department was acting under authority vested in its frozen fund division.

The ownership of the firms, the names of which were not revealed, was previously determined by careful investigation.

Sunset Crater, in Arizona, said to be one of the finest examples of volcanic formation in the country, has been established as a National Monument by a proclamation of the President. It is located within the Coconino National Forest and will be administered by the forest service.

RICH MINING AREA

(International News Service)

JUNEAU, Alaska—Approximately 6,000,000 tons of ore containing about 0.36 per cent nickel and 0.27 per cent copper are available for mining on Yakobi Island in southeastern Alaska, 130 miles from Juneau. These minerals can be mined and extracted at a cost roughly equal to the value of the metals produced.

These were the principal findings released by two U. S. geologists of the department of the Interior, J. C. Reed and J. Van N. Dorr, who spent the entire 1940 field season investigating the area.

FABRIC EXPERTS
RECOMMEND SUPER SUDS

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Better Fabrics Testing Bureau, widely-known authorities on all textile and fabric subjects, say "Wash rayons, silks, and woole in Super Suds." Here are their expert instructions:

Test a small patch in plain water for color-fastness. If color runs it's not washable. (Test woollens in soapy water.) Wash garments separately, by hand. Use lukewarm water as follows: Dissolve Super Suds completely in warm water, then add cold water to get lukewarm suds.

Do not soak. Wash quickly and gently. Do not rub, wring or twist. Woollens especially shrink from rubbing—avoid any excessive handling while wet.

Rinse thoroughly, gently, in clean, lukewarm water.

Roll in towel, but don't leave there. Never dry woollens in excessive heat or direct rays of sun.

Shape garment over ironing board before ironing. Use a moderate iron. Certain types of weaves and prints should never be washed. Many makers guarantee washability.

Look for this when you buy.

Batista Changes Old Traditions

Postpones Sunday Observance If It Falls On National Holiday

TABOOS RANK OF
GENERAL IN ARMY

(International News Service)
HAVANA, Cuba—President Fulgencio Batista, already famous for shattering traditions in Latin America, has broken another with a simple decree.

He has ruled that when a legal holiday falls on Sunday, then it shall be Sunday, not the holiday, that shall be postponed.

Actually, only the legal aspects of Sunday will be observed on Monday, such as the closing of businesses and industries which will be required to pay employees enjoying the holiday.

Batista, in his decree, pointed out that to postpone the holiday by "legal fiction" altered the historical tradition of the day and robbed workers of a paid day of rest.

In the matter of holidays Batista broke another tradition by reducing the number of legal holidays to four—a move later adopted by the Constituent Assembly.

List of Legal Holidays

They are February 24, "Grito de Balte," commemorating the War of Independence in 1895; May 20, commemorating the establishment of the Republic in 1902; October 10, "Grito de Azua," commemorating the start of the ill-fated 12-years war in 1865, and December 7, which is set aside as a "Day of Mourning" in memory of all who died in Cuba's battle for liberty.

On the day of mourning there are no shows, movies, night clubs, dances or private entertainments—not even any broadcasting and citizens, by tradition, are not supposed to tune in on foreign stations.

Most outstanding of the traditions broken by Batista was his declaration immediately following the revolutions of 1933 when he declared disgustedly that the Cuban Army would no longer be an "army of generals."

As Chief of the Army he took the rank of colonel, and to this day there are no generals. There are not even any admirals.

The head of the Navy is a colonel!

Tells Gripping Story Of Rescue Of 72 Men Adrift In Atlantic

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—The gripping story of how 72 men from the British light cruiser Dunedin survived after their ship went down in the Atlantic was related here today by Girard L. Bresson, chief engineer of the American freighter Nishmaha, which picked up the men four days and three nights after the sinking.

The men were picked up in mid-Atlantic near the Equator, he said, and put ashore at Trinidad. The British announced the loss of the 4,850-ton ship yesterday.

"All the men were in extremely bad shape when we pulled them aboard," Bresson said. "About half of them had suffered horrible bites from dogfish which flew out of the water and tore pieces of their flesh from their bodies."

"One of the sailors had a large chunk taken from his chest, and died five minutes later, his mates told us. Only a few of them had as much as a drop of water during the four days. On one of the rafts there were 34 men, one gallon of water and a can of sea biscuits."

"The men told me how some of them had stayed on the raft for a couple of days, then suddenly dove off, saying 'goodbye'."

"In spite of the fact that cooler heads warned against drinking salt water, some were driven by thirst to try it. They went out of their heads and had to be knocked insensible to keep them quiet."

"One seaman, known only as Butler, was the hero of the whole thing in his mates' eyes."

"He sort of organized their plight so that the rafts could be kept together. With ropes they managed to salvage before their ship went down, they tied four rafts together then linked the three others with ropes."

"One group of men on another raft, and so far as I know never heard from, insisted on remaining alone. But this fellow Butler swam around in the oil-coated water around his ship and dragged others aboard the rafts. Afterwards, when one of the men on his raft died, he would swim to an overcrowded raft and assist one of the survivors to his raft."

"He never lost his head, and we practically had to put him to bed when we got him aboard our ship. He still wanted to stay up and help his mates."

Alfred Duff Cooper Named Singapore Resident Minister

(International News Service)
LONDON, Dec. 19.—Alfred Duff Cooper, coordinator of British Far Eastern defenses, was appointed resident British minister at Singapore today with cabinet rank for Far Eastern affairs.

Under this arrangement the former British information minister will preside over a war council to be centered at Singapore, British authorities announced.

Duff Cooper will serve under the report directly to the British war cabinet in London and will perform functions at Singapore similar to those of Oliver Lyttelton at Cairo, the British minister of state in the Near East.

In this capacity Duff Cooper will relieve the local British commanders-in-chief of all extraneous responsibilities and problems.

He will facilitate matters on the spot which otherwise would have to be referred to government departments in London.

Authorities indicated his appointment in this capacity partly answers widespread demands, particularly from Australia, for removal of red tape requiring that petty details be approved by London.

If we are now one people, and no longer Jew and Gentile, Protestant and Catholic, etc., why do so much talking about it?

Warns West Faces Threat Of Serious Power Shortage

Federal Official Says An Increase Of Power Facilities Is Needed

(International News Service)
DENVER—Based on present power capacity and anticipated needs of the national defense program, the west faces a power shortage that may approximate 2,000,000 kilowatts by 1945.

That was the opinion voiced in Denver by Harry W. Bashore, assistant commissioner of the United States Bureau of Reclamation, who came from Washington, D. C., to discuss reclamation problems with S. O. Harper, chief engineer of the Denver office.

"However, the Bureau of Reclamation is ready to formulate an all-out program for the supply of additional power," Bashore said. "The bureau has submitted to Secretary Ickes a list of potential multiple-purpose power projects which have a total capacity of 9,000,000 kilowatts."

"These projects could be completed for use from 1943 to 1947. Their completion, of course, would be contingent on making the necessary priority authorization and funds available."

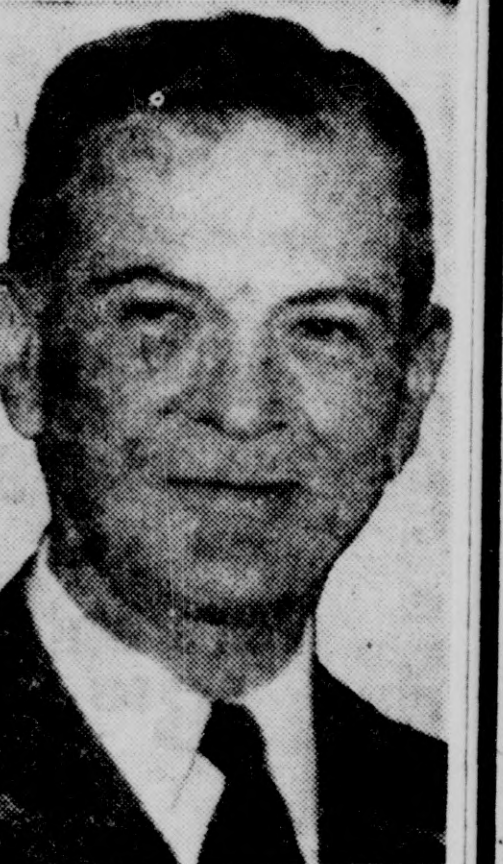

Bashore pointed out increased power is needed for military establishments, for increased production in defense industries and for development of mining resources in the west.

Parents And Economics; Morals And Business; Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON

CAMP DEVENS, Mass., Dec. 19.—I have recently visited one of the largest Army Camps for training U. S. Draftees. Having heard of sit-down strikes, manufactured illnesses, and even suicides there, I decided to see for myself what was going on. I returned with a definite conclusion—The fault is not with the young men in the camps, but rather with those on the outside, that is, those who have not been drafted.

Beware Of Only War Booms
Sleeping Sunday mornings will not win the War with Japan. Our World War efforts will be of little avail until we all think less about having a good time and more about doing a good job. From the Southwest, there comes an editorial which has the right idea. A Texas newspaper editor in San Augustine writes that there is not so much wrong with the country as there is wrong with the people in it. Too many have gone "good-time" crazy and are working just to get money for playing. Too few are playing with the purpose of building up energy for work.

These crazies and manias go in cycles just like everything else. Since World War II this "good-time" bug has spread like an epidemic. "No longer the moon alone can hold in spell the Romeo and Juliet of 1941. It must be a dinner, a show, after that some dancing, and then some sixty-cent chicken sandwiches, to say nothing of gasoline, oil, tires, times for speeding, and wrecks—of car or of character, or both. How the average man in average circumstances, "good-time" crazy himself, and with a "good-time" crazy wife and children, makes both ends meet is a mystery to all of us. The answer is that he is not making both ends meet, not even one end.

"It would be a dull life if we could not occasionally reach for a sweet. But the good books, the sunsets, the forests, the birds and the flowers that Emerson, Lowell, Longfellow, and the hosts of other great men have sung about seem to have lost some of their appeal. The family circle is the steering wheel. Family prayers or simple invocations at the dinner table are something we tell our children about that happened in the long ago. We adults talk and act as if we were going to live forever. We forget that in a few years we must turn our government, banks, and business over to these youngsters whom we are now neglecting.

Subsidies And Doles
Subsidies and doles never yet won a war. A dole is nothing more than a piece of paper for nothing. Today's parents have invented, however, are not among the poor, but among some of the self-styled upper classes. I refer to the recklessness and wastefulness of young people who live on doles supplied by foolish parents. This spectacle gives more encouragement to communism than to patriotism. It also greatly handicaps law enforcement when criminals see the lawlessness of children of ostentatious families. This profligacy, according to one analysis, is creating "more economic waste than all the supposed inefficiency of government and all the alleged corruption of politics."

The present generation of young people may be just as sound fundamentally as my own generation; but if so, surely they have worse parents. Today's parents have invented, however, are not among the poor, but among some of the self-styled upper classes. I refer to the recklessness and wastefulness of young people who live on doles supplied by foolish parents. This spectacle gives more encouragement to communism than to patriotism. It also greatly handicaps law enforcement when criminals see the lawlessness of children of ostentatious families. This profligacy, according to one analysis, is creating "more economic waste than all the supposed inefficiency of government and all the alleged corruption of politics."

Community Choir To Present Cantata
Sunday evening at 8 o'clock the New Bedford-Mahoning Community choir will present a Christmas cantata, "Night of Holy Memories," in Hopewell Presbyterian church, New Bedford.

The choir is under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Ropp with Miss Helen Sagabel as pianist. Soloists will be Geary Sagabel, Rev. A. D. Anderson, Mrs. Frank Cover Jr. and Betty Baird. There will be a quartet comprised of Miss Baird, Mrs. Cover, Paul Shields and Irwin Ropp.

CUREW FOR YOUNGSTERS
PORTLAND, Me.—They're rolling up the streets at 9:15 p. m. in Portland these days insofar as youngsters under 15 are concerned. Police Chief Edward R. Dodwell has found an ancient city ordinance that permits him to call a 9:15 curfew for boys and girls under 15 years unless they're accompanied by an older person.

Refugees Meet in U. S. Army

Six years ago, two boyhood chums in Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, bid each other farewell as one left to join the Hungarian army. The other left for America about a year and a half ago to escape Nazi persecution. Ignorant of each other's whereabouts until recently, Pvt. Ernest Kovary (left) and Martin Lebovics are shown after a chance meeting at Fort Knox, Ky., where they are selectees in America's Armored Force. (Central Press)

PROPER FEEDING BASIS OF GOOD PRODUCTION

Feeding dairy cows during the winter months tries the skill of every dairyman. From fall until spring a cow is put in a stall and has to eat only what is put before her. The dairyman is entirely responsible and milk production will depend on his management and the feeds he puts before her.

The dairyman who feeds plenty of good roughage, allows cows all the fresh water they desire, purchases or mixes a well balanced grain mixture and weighs each cow's milk every day as a basis for feeding grain is the one most apt to make a profit from his dairy cows.

For detailed information on feeding dairy cows a circular on feeding which gives various grain mixtures and analyses of feeds may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Bldg., New Castle.

The winter ration must supply sufficient protein and total digestible nutrients to supply materials for maintenance as well as milk production. If there is a shortage milk production suffers. A dairyman must know his cows and supply feeds that are palatable and adequate and at the same time keep the cost at a minimum.

LIGHT AND WARMTH AID REPAIR WORK

Machinery repair this winter will be easier if done in a warm, well-lighted room with ample working space. On most farms a handy place to do repair work can be provided in an existing building. The place should be large enough for a sturdy bench, supply shelves, and space for an implement with room to work around it. A room 16 feet wide by 20 feet long with a double and single door in one end provides a neat arrangement. In many cases the present garage can be used by the addition of an easily constructed shed roof lean-to at least 6 feet wide across the back end to house the bench, supplies and tools.

Where there is electricity, numerous outlets should be provided for plugging in extension cords. Farmers not having electricity frequently use flashlights to light work under or in the machines.

The repair shop should be heated in some way. If the building does not have a chimney a ventilated metal flue should be used around the smokepipe where it goes through either the floor or roof.

Where the width of the shop permits the best arrangement for the equipment is along the side wall. A window here also provided the light. For a right-handed man the bench should have plenty of room on the right end and for a left-handed man the open space should be at the left end.

The work bench should be at least 16 inches wide by 6 feet long. Many farmers prefer a 24-inch width and 12-foot length. The top may be made of hardwood planks securely bolted to a 2"x6" frame which is bolted or spiked to the building studs.

The wall behind and to each side of the bench makes an ideal place to hang the tools. It should be painted a light color. After the tools are arranged, each one should be outlined with a pencil and the outlined area painted black. This saves time in replacing tools and readily shows which ones are missing.

BODY WEIGHT IMPORTANT IN EGG PRODUCTION

Good egg production usually continues only as long as the body weight of the birds is maintained. When the hen does not consume enough feed to provide both the raw material for eggs and the replacement of worn-out body tissues, she begins to draw on her body reserves to produce eggs. However, body depletion can only go on a short time until nature is forced to call a halt, cease the production of eggs and rebuild the body.

Feed consumption then is a rather important matter. As fowls come into production naturally, feed consumption normally increases. When grain and mash both are fed there is a greatly increased mash consumption in proportion to grain intake since it is the mash which principally contains the materials needed to make eggs. With colder weather grain consumption naturally increases. Losses in body weight may be due to low feed consumption of either grain, mash, or both grain and mash.

Experienced poultrymen carefully watch the feed intake. Mash may be put in the hoppers several times a day, depending on the feeding system followed, or the hoppers may be filled once a day, always at the same time. The level of mash in the feeders from day to day and the relative amounts required to keep that level may be used as a guide. The reaction of the birds when grain is fed should be noted and the relative amounts consumed from day to day serve as a guide. Body weight and condition can be observed by handling fowls on the roost at night or by marking a few birds in each pen and weighing them periodically.

HOME AND COMMUNITY MEAT CANNING

With the settled cold weather of December and January comes the season for home-slaughtering of meat. Next on many a farm homemaker's calendar of special events is meat canning.

This year, as a result of the food-for-freedom campaign announced by the United States Department of Agriculture in September, home meat canning takes on added importance. For this program emphasizes the value of nutritious foods grown and preserved at home as a means of improving diets the country over.

As a result of the food-for-freedom campaign, too, more meat canning may be done on a community basis this year. In the past, canning centers for a community have been found to be an efficient way of putting up home-grown produce for families and for schools serving lunches. This year, with canning equipment limited in many respects as a result of the defense program, community centers can be valuable in making the best use of equipment on hand.

In the following paragraphs, canning specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics make recommendations for meat canning as of December, 1941.

CONSERVING CANNING EQUIPMENT

Meat cannot be canned safely unless there is a steam pressure canner available in good condition. Only with steam under pressure is it possible to get the temperatures of 240 to 250 degrees Fahrenheit needed to make sure of killing the organisms likely to cause spoilage.

Material most used in making steam pressure canners until recently has been aluminum, which is now a vital defense material. Therefore any homemaker who owns an aluminum canner can help by taking the best care of it. Other canners are available in enameled steel and tinned steel.

No matter what the canner is made of—it should be washed after each use and stored where it won't be dented or surfaces roughened. If the canner is of enamel, take special precautions not to chip it. Keep the safety valve in good working order. Never let the pressure gauge get under water, and keep the opening of it clean with a toothpick.

In some neighborhoods several families band together to buy a canner among them—then plan their canning so that all can use it. The community canning center carries this cooperative scheme still further by making a comparatively few canners serve many families.

Zinc, used for certain types of tops for glass jars, is another strategic material. Take special care of these zinc tops. As long as they are not dented on the edges, not misshapen, and the porcelain lining is unbroken they may be used over and over again with a new rubber each time. When you open jars with this type of lid, never pry it with a knife blade or other metal instrument. That dents the edge and ruins the top.

Special Tips
 It is possible to can a great variety of meat products. But it is more economical of containers and equipment to can the meat alone—then combine it with other foods and seasonings when it is opened.

Some homemakers believe they are conserving jars when they use half-gallon jars for meat canning. In that way one top does cover twice the meat it would in a quart jar. But home economists say that it is dangerous practice to can meat at home in containers larger than a quart glass jar or a No. 3 can.

In a large jar or can of meat, heat penetrates slowly so that much longer processing periods are necessary—so long as they are impractical for home canners. If the heat does not penetrate so that all the meat is sterilized, spoilage results and the meat is wasted.

Meat usually is pre-cooked before it is processed. Quickest way to pre-cook it is to heat the meat in a kettle of water or broth until the red color changes to brown. Frying is not a satisfactory way of pre-cooking the meat. For the brown crust that tastes so good if you eat the meat right away, fry it hard and dry and gives the meat a disagreeable flavor.

Meat should be kept cold until it is canned. But watch it carefully to make sure it does not freeze. Frozen meat may be canned, but it is not a high quality product.

Community Meat Canning
 "Community food preservation—families getting together in a neighborhood way to can, brine, preserve or otherwise store an oversupply for a coming need is as old as America and as new as all-out defense," according to new handbook released last month by the United States Department of Agriculture, states Miss Bonita Gordon, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county.

This handbook tells how to set up a community food preservation center. It takes up all methods of food preservation, lists sources of equipment, suggests how to finance the center and tells the kind of personnel and supervision desirable. Surplus of fresh foods can't wait. Therefore it is suggested that any such centers be set up before the big season of home grown plenty arrives next summer—with its planned additional 1,300,000 farm gardens. Meat canning season, which is shorter and can be regulated more easily, is a good time to establish such a center—to see how it works—and to make necessary adjustments before next summer.

For leaders in the organization of community food preservation centers this handbook is free from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Its title is "Food Preservation Centers". Miscellaneous Publication 472. For home meat canners, a handbook of canning procedure is also available from the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Farmers' Bulletin 1762—"Home Canning of Fruits, Vegetables and Meats".

ERSATZ' MOTHERS
 BOSTON.—The Boston Provident Association has assembled a corps of 50 mothers to take over, whenever necessary, the job they can best do—be mothers. Through funds provided by the Community Chest, the women are hired to act as "ersatz" mothers whenever a "momma" becomes ill and father can't afford a nurse. And, from the Association's reports, it's quite apparent they do a right fine job. More than 200 families already have been helped.

Birth Certificates Are Harder To Get Since War Has Come

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 19—The state bureau of vital statistics will not be "stampeded" into a reckless issuance of birth certificates because of unwarranted criticism of the bureau's activities. Acting Secretary of Health A. H. Stewart asserted today.

It was essential, he stated, that the bureau scrutinize with the utmost care each request for a birth certificate in order to prevent fifth columnists or other subversive agents from obtaining employment in war industries.

"Numerous attempts to perpetrate fraudulent documents have been discovered and thwarted by the bureau," Dr. Stewart disclosed.

He pointed out that all persons seeking work in war contract industries are now required by law to possess birth certificates as proof of their American citizenship. An applicant whose birth is not registered in a delayed record certificate, said Stewart, by submitting a certified county birth record, a sworn statement in the English language by the physician or midwife in attendance during birth, or other acceptable proof, such as a baptismal certificate.

POLICE INSTRUCTIONS

Instructions have been received by Register and Recorder Orville Potter concerning the appointment of volunteer police. Under the Act of July 18, 1917, the governor is authorized to appoint volunteer police to guard industrial plants at the expense of the industries.

The mode of procedure to have men appointed is fairly simple. Applications may be received from the State Council of Defense in Harrisburg. The application must be sponsored by a municipal body such as the city, the boro, the township, etc. When the commission is granted it is mailed to the Recorder of Deeds with notice to the municipality. The appointed officer lifts his commission and then goes to the chief of police for counter signature on his card. In sub-divisions where there is no chief of police the state police may countersign the card.

ATTEND MEETING

County Commissioner William R. Walton who is the chairman of the Lawrence County Council of Defense was in Pittsburgh Thursday afternoon attending a meeting of county chairmen of the Pittsburgh Metropolitan area. Mr. Walton was accompanied by Commissioner Joseph F. Travers, Mayor Cornelius D. Scully of Pittsburgh, was the chairman of the meeting.

DIVORCE COURT THURSDAY

Eleven divorce applications were heard by Judge Charles Matthews, Jr., on Thursday.

SALARY BOARD

With the end of the year just around the corner, two things must be done in the court house. The budget must be prepared by County Controller Frank W. Hill and the salary board must meet. This year it is likely the salary board will be confronted with a number of requests for increases in salaries.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

PROTHONOTARY JOHN A. Edgar's office is crowded this week with newly made citizens who are getting their naturalization certificates. The certificates are a real Christmas gift for many of the new citizens for had they not been granted citizenship in the last court many of them would have been held up indefinitely owing to the new regulations which defer granting citizenship to people of German or Italian birth for a time.

Secretary Knox
Sees Long War

Speaks To Graduates Of
U. S. Naval Academy At Annapolis

TALKS OF TREACHERY
IN JAPANESE ATTACK

(International News Service)
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 19.—Secretary of the Navy Knox warned the nation today that it is faced with "what promises to be a long and costly war" against "formidable" enemies equipped with powerful land and sea forces and the largest naval force, at present, in the western Pacific, "where most of the sea fighting will be done."

Knox, speaking at graduation exercises for the U. S. Naval Academy's class of 1942, added however, that "formidable though our enemies may be you can be sure that victory—eventually and inevitably—will be ours."

The navy chief cautioned that "we must not underestimate the enemy," pointing out that "their forces include a huge and highly efficient army which, until recently, carried all before it on the continent of Europe," and "a large, well-trained air force."

"Their men are brave with the bravery of fanaticism," he told the 457 graduating "midships" and a nationwide audience. "Their leaders are skilled in the art of war. And these leaders will be completely without honor or scruple in fighting the war—since only in this way can they hope to win."

Knox reviewed the events in negotiations between the United States and Japan that were going on even as

Nipponese bombers were dropping bombs on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, and declared that "a more damning account of infamous treachery was never recorded in the history of the world."

Should Have Been On Guard
"But we ought to have been on our guard against treachery," the secretary continued. "If we had studied Japan's record in the war with Russia, when, in a similar manner, they descended upon the Russian fleet at a moment when those two nations were still at peace and destroyed that fleet without warning—if we had studied that and remembered that, we would not have been surprised."

"Let us profit, and you young men who are going into the service particularly must profit, from this lesson that one of the greatest and most effective factors in war is the element of surprise—both for our offense and for our defense."

Knox contended that a one-half hour notice that Japanese bombers were headed for Hawaii "would have made all the difference in the world." He pointed out that the Japanese assault was made in three attacks, with the third following two hours after the first.

"With all of the resources that were left to the same army and navy," he said, "we were ready, and that attack never got home."

He explained that American forces threw up such a heavy barrage from "every gun and every ship" that Japanese bombers attempting to strike the third time were driven off without making a single hit with torpedoes or the slightest damage to any ships or equipment.

Knox declared the surprise attack on Hawaii "served the highly useful purpose of driving home with frightful force upon the mind of our military leaders the importance of guarding against surprise, the importance of never underestimating the boldness and resourcefulness of the enemy; and upon the civilian population, it drove home with a sense of horror the treachery of the foe we have to defeat."

Yet history will say that Hitler got to first base only because two of England's prime ministers were stupid.

Before calling a man great, point out something he has done that ordinary little men couldn't do as well.

Three Found Dead
From Gas Fumes

Camden Newsdealer, Wife And Son By Previous Marriage
Are Victims

CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 19.—Joseph Watkins, 73, a newsdealer, his wife, and a son by a previous marriage, were found dead today in their home at Bridgeport, just below Paulsboro, N. J.

Authorities said they broke into the house when a neighbor reported "no activity" in the household and found that all the jets of a kitchen stove were turned on and that gas was seeping throughout the house.

Mrs. Watkins, 62, was lying in bed with her husband, and the son, John Schloar, 45, partially crippled, was found on the floor of his bedroom. Police said it was possible the son had attempted to get up to turn off the gas. An investigation was immediately begun to determine whether it was suicide or accident.

The indictment of religion is that it pities and helps the poor, but never has used its power to abolish poverty.

Specimens of lake trout have been known to weigh 100 pounds, but the average is from 15 to 20 pounds.

There are more suicides in the United States than homicides, according to statistics.

U.S. Refugees Reach Manila

Make Trip Through Jungles From Legaspi, Where Japs Gained Foothold

(International News Service)
MANILA, Dec. 19.—Twelve more American refugees from Legaspi, where Jap landing parties have gained a precarious foothold, today brought eyewitness reports of brutal murders to noncombatants carried out by the invaders.

The latest arrivals were footsore and weary after a week's journey through insect-infested jungles and thick canebrakes. But through their weariness shone admiration for the stout resistance, the dauntless courage, of Filipino soldiers who resisted the Jap landing parties.

"The Japs shot some of the civilians in Legaspi," one man said. "How many were murdered I don't know. The Japs said they killed them because they wouldn't 'cooperate' after the town was occupied."

The arriving refugees were mostly mining employees and their families. Four women, three small children and a seven-month-old baby girl were in the party.

They had gathered up their necessary belongings, grouped together for protection, and then headed into the jungle for the long trip north to Manila rather than fall captive to the Japs when it became obvious that the invaders would take Legaspi.

The Filipino soldiers at Legaspi did a "marvelous job," one woman said. "They took a heavy toll among the numerous small boats which brought the landing parties ashore."

From the north came other refugees who had witnessed the Jap occupation of Vigan. The northern part of the city, they said, was a "ghost town" when the Japs took it over, since the population already had been evacuated.

DEATHS INCREASE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA—Tuberculosis deaths in both England and Germany have greatly increased since the start of the present war according to Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, president of the National Tuberculosis association. Dr. Douglas estimated that the rate of increase was about 13 per cent among men and seven per cent among the women of Great Britain. Hitler's "forced labor" program, he said, undoubtedly boosted the death rate to an even greater extent in Germany.

Red and black seem to have been the first two colors differentiated or recognized by man. Proof of this lies in the colors used in those ancient games of chess, checkers, backgammon and in the suits of playing cards.

Striking Dairy Farmers Tangle With Patrolmen

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Dec. 19.—Three state patrolmen suffered superficial injuries today and a number of farmers were arrested when striking dairy farmers seeking to prevent delivery of a truckload of milk at Richmond, tangled with the troops.

Authorities reported that the farmers threw red pepper at the officers in a vain effort to halt the milk delivery. The incident occurred about 25 miles from Detroit. The new outbreak of violence occurred as the milk strike called by the United Dairy Farmers spread to Flint and Pontiac. Previously 18 persons had been arrested for investigation in connection with alleged destruction of property during the strike. It has been estimated that 130,000 pounds of milk have been destroyed since the dairy farmers began their effort to divert the milk supply from the Detroit area.

Struthers Strikers Defying Leaders

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 19.—Defying union leaders' orders to return to their jobs, 1800 members of the CIO-Steel Workers Organizing committee at the Struthers plant of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., today continued a strike, tying up large defense orders.

Although they were ordered by James P. Gallagher, SWOC field representative, to return to work yesterday afternoon the membership of Lodge No. 2162 voted to continue the walkout, leaders said.

The strike was called because of a dispute involving an "incentive system" of pay, under which the men were said to be dissatisfied with bonuses they were receiving.

Gallagher, who described the unionists' action as a "wildcat strike," said attempts were being made to continue mediation today.

Arizona is the fifth largest state in the union—113,956 square miles; nearly as large as all of New England and New York combined.

First Steps Taken Towards Rationing Rubber In State

Government Representative In Conference With Governor James

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Dec. 19.—The federal government has taken the first step toward rationing rubber products—including tires—in Pennsylvania, it was authoritatively learned today.

Hard on the heels of an announcement in Washington by Price Administrator Leon Henderson that civilian consumption of rubber products will be cut nearly 80 per cent, a representative of the office of price administration conferred with Gov. Arthur H. James on plans for inaugurating the new rationing system in Pennsylvania.

The governor's office said that Henderson's representative, David Robinson, made what was termed a "preliminary visit" to the chief executive. Following a brief discussion with the governor Robinson left but will return for another meeting when the plan will presumably be discussed in more detail.

Robinson outlined to Governor James the government's plans and on his next visit may explain the full details of the State Defense Council, of which the governor is chairman. The next scheduled meeting of the council is on Dec. 30, but a spokesman explained that the members could be convened earlier at very short notice.

Before returning to Washington, Robinson also conferred with Dr. A. C. Martz, executive director of the State Defense Council; Attorney General Claude T. Reno, legal adviser to the council; and P. A. Pitkin, executive director of the State Planning Board.

Rationing will begin January 4 and will be under the control of rationing boards composed of local citizens appointed by the State Council of Defense.

A rationing board will be set up in each community in the state to decide who should be permitted to purchase new tires. The boards will also assume the task of allocating other articles, in the event the system is expanded, as appears probable.

Although the rationing system will be aimed primarily at reducing the use of new tires, whose sale has been banned entirely until January 4, the production of other rubber articles, such as golf and tennis balls, toy balloons, bathing apparel and other non-essential articles, will be virtually halted, Henderson stated.

State and local rationing boards are being established under the aegis of Frank Bane, director of field operations for the office of price administration.

Monthly quotas of tires which can be sold are expected to be set up for each county in the state, based primarily on commercial vehicle registration.

New Castle Couple Hurt In Accident

OIL CITY, Pa., Dec. 19.—A New Castle couple and a Canton (O.) woman are in Oil City hospital, result of an auto collision on the Oil City-Tionesta highway Wednesday night.

Mrs. Carbaugh has injuries to her wrist and left leg and scalp abrasions, and Mrs. Mary Pritchard of Canton, a sister of Mrs. Carbaugh, has lacerations of the face and an injury to her left leg.

The accident occurred on a sharp curve. The car, driven by Carbaugh, collided with one driven by Orville Detrich, Route 1, Venus.

Even Sparrows Suffer From The ETERNAL TRIANGLE

(International News Service)
BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 19.—The eternal triangle apparently is not limited to the human family.

Sparrows, who practice polygamy when there aren't enough males to go around, frequently suffer from the same trouble. It seems that Mrs. Sparrow turns on the hen-pecking if the Mr. of the family starts stepping out.

This, among other family troubles, has been described in a study of "The White-Crowned Sparrows of the Pacific Seaboard" by Dr. Barbara D. Blanchard and recently released in a new publication by the University of California Press.

According to the survey and study, the sparrows move to the southern part of the state for breeding during the winter. Each male stakes out a small area which he defends against other males. He mates, usually with one female, but sometimes with two.

It is when that sometimes comes in that trouble starts—there is plenty of evidence of jealousy between the two females involved to record. Feathers, it seems, fly.

Dallas, Texas, is to have a Masonic Temple costing $1,000,000, and work on Kansas City's $1,000,000 Scottish Rite cathedral is nearing completion.

DARTMOUTH HAS LARGE COLLECTION OF FILM SCRIPTS

(International News Service)

HANOVER, N. H.—More than 750 original movie scripts, the largest collection in the world, exceeding even that of the Library of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences in Hollywood, are now catalogued and bound at Dartmouth College for students and professors studying scenario writing.

First founded in 1936 by Walter Wanger, a Dartmouth graduate of the class of 1915 and now a Hollywood producer, the Script Library was able to expand through the cooperation of Hays Office of Censorship, which receives two copies of every script for each studio before production.

Many of the movie scenarios, which range from high-grade to the more commercial "B" and "C" grade, come to Dartmouth with the markings of the Hays Office. Undergoing censorship by this body, supported by the movie industry itself for protection, the scripts often arrive in Hanover with notations or implication and with the Office's suggestions for correction.

COSTA RICA'S WITH UNITED STATES

Costa Ricans in San Jose, capital of their nation, made no secret of their attitude when they demonstrated wildly in favor of the United States as the Central American republic declared war on Japan.

MANY WAR MOVES ARE BEING MADE BY UNITED STATES

until after Admiral Home reports to his chiefs but it may include an agreement for joint Franco-American defense of the French Islands. Official war news from the Pacific front that American submarine actions against enemy forces in the Far East have resulted in the sinking of an enemy transport and the probable loss of one enemy destroyer.

On the domestic front, there was every indication that the United States is rushing its vast manpower, financial resources and unparalleled industrial capacity into the war on any front where they may be needed.

War, defense and lend-lease appropriations and authorizations have passed the $70,000,000 mark, with a victory budget of staggering proportions still in the making for submission to congress early in January.

Decide On Armed Forces

The two houses of congress went into conference to decide how deep the army, navy and Marine Corps could dig into the male population to procure fighting men. Both legislative branches were agreed that every man between the ages of 18 and 64 must register. The senate, standing with the president, held that all between 19 and 44 are eligible for military service while the house contended a youth should be 21 before he is sent into combat. Compromise on the start-up combat age of 20 was forecast generally.

And while congress conscripted manpower, the office of civilian defense and the department of agriculture laid plans to register women for farm work. Officials predicted there would be many a "girl behind the plow" next spring and summer.

Frank J. McSherry, chief of the defense training bureau of OPM's labor division, told the Georgetown school of foreign service that at least 3,000,000 additional workers would be needed in defense industries in 1942. He reported that the nation generally could meet the call but noted a "general shortage of industrial plant superintendents and skilled workers in some lines."

Censorship Director

Byron Price, veteran New York and Washington press association executive who is to be director of censorship, upon arrival here today found a detailed plan awaiting his consideration to keep all information, of value to the enemy, out of newspapers and mails and off the radio and cables. Behind him, Price has the unparalleled authority of the war powers bill, which President Roosevelt just signed, and which carries heavy penalties for transgressions.

Drastic price control was in prospect early in January as price administrator Leon Henderson warned congress it "means national suicide to get into inflation," and the senate banking subcommittee agreed on salient points of a measure that will place the control job in one man's hands.

Organized farm groups experienced a setback when the senate subcommittee eliminated a house provision which would have made the 1919-1929 average of agricultural prices a floor beneath which current prices could not drop. There was still debate on whether parity of 110 percent thereof should be adopted. The full banking committee will get the bill on Jan. 2.

Scour Country

And while the White House, congress and every agency of the executive branch were thus busy speeding up the war machine, an army of undercover agents was scouring the country to nip espionage, fifth column activity and sabotage at the source.

want of $2,500 bail languished Lauro Ingalls, famed aviatrix, arrested by the FBI on charges of having been a German agent since about August 1, 1941, without registering with the state department. Miss Ingalls told reporters: "I was carrying out my own investigation. I guess I overstepped. I was a free agent." The erstwhile non-Interventionist advocate will be given a hearing Dec. 26.

May Be Cut Off

New York, Dec. 19.—German armies on the Leningrad front may be cut off from those on the Moscow front, the British radio said today, according to CBS.

Strong Russian wedges are being driven into the German lines at various points along the Moscow-Leningrad railroad, it was said.

Another broadcast said that Tikhvin, retaken by the Russians, is now returning to normal and that smashed German war material is being gathered up for scrap and being used in Russian factories.

JAP AIR RAIDERS ATTEMPT ATTACK ON CAVITE BASE

The Jap planes vanished within ten minutes after they first appeared over the naval base. Twenty-four bombers were in the first wave. In the second, which flew in about 1:30 p. m., only nine Jap bombers were seen. The second wave caused no damage, dropping most of their bombs into Manila Bay before fleeing from pursuing American planes ever faster than had the preceding attackers.

Official Communique

An official communique said: "Military objectives in the vicinity of Tarlac, (northwest of Manila) were bombed yesterday afternoon by a small number of Japanese planes. Twenty-four bombers attacked Cavite about noon today. Manila was put on the alert again about 1:30 this afternoon but no reports of bombing have been received."

(Editor's note: The Tarlac raid possibly was the "mild" attack referred to yesterday in an army communique issued at Washington). The last previous raid struck yesterday at Iloilo on Panay Island, south of Manila, where more than 30 Nipponese planes took part in the attack, inflicting a small number of civilian casualties. A cadre of soldiers near Camp Del Gado also was bombed but it was not known whether there were any casualties.

Brief Attacks

Today's brief attacks came as U. S. and Philippine attacks were consolidating their defense positions and preparing a new drive against the Jap footholds at Vigan, Aparri and Legaspi.

On the basis of official communications, observers believe it certain that Japanese landings at these coastal points were opposed vigorously by American bombers which smashed repeatedly at the Jap transports.

There have been no major troop clashes thus far, although American-Philippine ground forces in the initial patrol engagements drove the Japanese back with undetermined casualties when the Jap detachments sought to penetrate southward from Vigan on the northwestern Luzon coast.

Strategists of the army high command are keeping the American-Philippine patrols constantly active to guard against being drawn out of position by major action of the Jap forces should such action be attempted.

Raid on Manila

The Manila area yesterday experienced a return of Nipponese bombers after a breathing spell of nearly three days. Two flights of bombers attacked Nichols and Zablan fields, but an official army announcement reported damage slight and on casualties.

One enemy flight, coming in low, was peppered by anti-aircraft fire. The other hovered cautiously far above at about 20,000 feet. The bombers appeared from the west and southeast, instead of flying in from the northwest as usual.

An army communique following this attack said: "Enemy activity has been confined to the air. Nichols and Zablan fields were bombed about 2 p. m. Damage was light. There has been no report on casualties."

In preparation for an anticipated drive to oust the Japs from their three footholds upon Luzon, at Vigan and Aparri in the north and Legaspi to the south, Lt. Gen. Douglas MacArthur welded his fighting forces into a single, integrated unit. The Philippine army, heretofore nominally a separate organization, was formally inducted into the United States Army. General Basilio Valdes will remain in command of the Filipino soldiers, General MacArthur said.

The latest known land action in the commonwealth resulted in victory for U. S. forces over a Jap patrol that had moved cautiously southward from Vigan. The enemy troops were thrown back many miles northward before darkness halted the engagement.

The victory gave added heart to the islands' defenders, who were told in a nationwide broadcast by President Manuel Quezon that "defeat of Japan is certain."

Raid on Manila

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The War Department communique today reported "marked increase" of Japanese air and ground activities in the Philippines during the past 24 hours, including heavy bombings over Manila and the city of Iloilo on the island of Panay.

The army communique, the 18th of the war, follows: "Philippine theater: 'There was a marked increase in enemy air and ground activities during the past 24 hours. There was heavy bombing over Manila and over the city of Iloilo on the island of Panay, south of Luzon. 'There is nothing to report from other areas.'"

Predicts Rugs Of The Future Will Be Moth-Proof

(International News Service)

CORVALLIS, Ore.—Rugs that are moth-proof, stocking that will wear a year, dust-proof and spot-proof and straw hats that will not fade in the sun or wilt in rain.

These are just a few of the developments to be expected through chemistry in the next few years according to Luc Lane, clothing and textile expert at Oregon State college.

Pointing to the ever increasing list of articles in everyday use at present through the wizardry of chemists, Miss Lane predicted an even more startling future.

For example, Miss Lane declared there is a chemical textile now being manufactured called "Fortisan" the strongest fibre the world has ever seen. The entire output of this amazing fabric is being used by the government for parachutes at present, but Miss Lane predicted a "revolution" in women's clothing once the fabric is used domestically.

JAPANESE FORCES ARE LANDED ON HONG KONG

"serious" they were confident the small garrison of gallant defenders would bitterly contest every inch of ground the Japanese gain. In London, observers expressed belief that Hong Kong is virtually in Japanese hands.

The colonial office announced that not the slightest credence should be attached to a report that Sir Mark Young, Governor-General and military Commander-in-Chief of Hong Kong, had left the Colony. "We have been in telegraphic communication with him this morning," a spokesman said.

"He is not only Governor but Commander-in-Chief, and thus is unlikely to quit."

Overwhelming Strength

British military authorities indicated the Japanese forces attacking the Crown Colony are overwhelmingly superior to the defenders in numerical strength.

In view of this, they said, "eventual fall of the fortress must now be contemplated as a distinct possibility."

Information was anxiously awaited which might give some key to the probable outcome of the struggle now raging on bomb and shell-battered Hong Kong Island.

As for Penang, off the Malayan coast and north of the newest British defense lines, British authorities frankly admitted they did not know whether or not it is still in British hands.

But they said: "It would be reasonable to assume that the fall of Penang can only be a matter of time."

They stressed the Japanese are scarcely more than 300 miles north of Singapore—and are approaching a region through which good automobile roads lead south.

But—and this also was stressed—supreme efforts are being made to hold Malaya, even at the expense of other fronts, to prevent the possibility of a direct Japanese assault on Singapore.

A British military commentator declared it was not known in London exactly where the Japanese effected their landings on Hong Kong. But he pointed out that the comparatively small British garrison on the shell and bomb-shattered island "has a large area to cover."

Penn Power Club Banquet

Three Hundred Attend Annual Affair Last Night At Cathedral

PROBLEMS OF WAR GET CONSIDERATION

Three hundred members of the Pennsylvania Power company club last night held their annual Christmas banquet in the Cathedral which was attended by W. H. Sammis, president; vice president and general manager L. B. Round and other officials of the power company. A splendid turkey dinner was served. One half of the evening was consumed by the presentation of a show which consisted of numerous songs by the chorus and sketches of a gridiron nature. The last half of the evening's entertainment was replete with patriotic numbers and beautiful displays arranged by Ralph Galbreath and Ed Jones during which the "Bill of Rights" was sung.

"We produce the power for defense material. It is up to us to see power continued without interference or sabotage. We must be alert" was the high-light of an address delivered by the company's president, W. H. Sammis.

Following President Sammis, Vice President and General Manager L. B. Round responded, saying: "I say to you, Mr. Sammis, we will live up to our every responsibility. I pledge you our every co-operation."

Serious Problems
President Sammis, in his address, said "The past 11 days have produced serious problems. Twelve of our employees already are in the armed forces and undoubtedly there will be many more of 'our family' going."

"We're proud, very proud of the fellows and I can say, having spent 28 months in the first world war, each of them can be proud of his action." He urged a telegram be sent to each saying "we miss you and are thinking of you."

During the entertainment L. B. Round, shed his dignity as the vice president and general manager of the company and appeared on the stage as a Scotch highlander, kilts and all. He not only recited some Scotch stories but also rendered several Scotch songs.

Male Chorus
The male chorus was directed by Robert A. Duff, director of high school singing. The pianist was H. C. Knittel. Those in charge of the show were C. M. England, N. P. Vidal and D. M. Arnold. The latter, president of the local division, Pennsylvania Power club, also acted as toastmaster during the banquet.

The banquet was opened by when several Boy Scouts, carrying our colors, marched into the banquet room. C. W. Irwin led in the singing of America and "Andy" Hunter pronounced the invocation, after which "eat" was the order, followed by the show and before conclusion, by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Among the honored guests were: Robert Fulton, club president, Sharon division; Attorney Homer Swaney, Beaver Falls Valley; C. E. Brockway, Sharon attorney; Rufus Moses, division manager, Sharon; J. A. Longley, assistant to President Sammis; Daniel Schable, club president, Greenville division; Guy Thorne, Greenville Grove City attorney; Frank Connor, manager, Greenville division; S. A. Sons Of Italy Declare Stand In Present War

Only Thought Is For America And Aiding In U. S. Victory, Is Statement

The following telegram was sent to President Roosevelt, Governor James and Mayor Samuel of Philadelphia by Judge Eugene V. Alessandrini, grand venerable of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania of the Order Sons of Italy in America:

"During the history of our country, America has fought for political independence, for the preservation of the Union, for the sacred rights of freedom and democracy."

"Once again war has been forced upon us by brutal forces organized for the destruction of principles of justice and decency. Our territory has been invaded and American blood has been shed. The treacherous attack has found the United States of America united, unafraid, prepared to strike back on land, on sea and in the air."

"Our faith in ultimate victory is certain. Our trust in the leadership of the American people is absolute. 'America will win!'"

"For this great cause, for the triumph of the American flag, for our sacred ideals of justice and freedom, the Order Sons of Italy in America is ready and willing, as in 1917, to perform its full duty, and to this end dedicates all its resources and its organization of effective services."

"Our only thought is for America. For the victory of our armed forces we mobilize our entire order. Standing at attention we await the command of our President, our governor and the other authorities of our commonwealth."

Registering For Civilian Defense

Nearly 700 Have Already Signed Voluntary Pledge To Aid In Emergency

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 19.—The civilian defense registration committee stated today that citizens may register for home defense tomorrow at the court room in the Municipal building from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p. m.

Some 648 citizens have already signed cards which is a voluntary pledge to be of use to this city if and when the emergency calls for their services here at home. During last week's registration rumors started by intentional propaganda, had it that if you signed up it would mean that you would be taken from your jobs and placed on guard duty. These rumors are false and unpatriotic and definitely put out by subversive agents.

Citizens signing up for civilian defense will only be asked to serve at some task that they are best qualified for if and when an emergency should strike us.

It is the patriotic duty of all able bodied women and men to sign up tomorrow for civilian defense.

Because of the holidays, no meetings will be held until Thursday, January 8.

REGISTRATION OF WOMEN LIKELY

(International News Service)

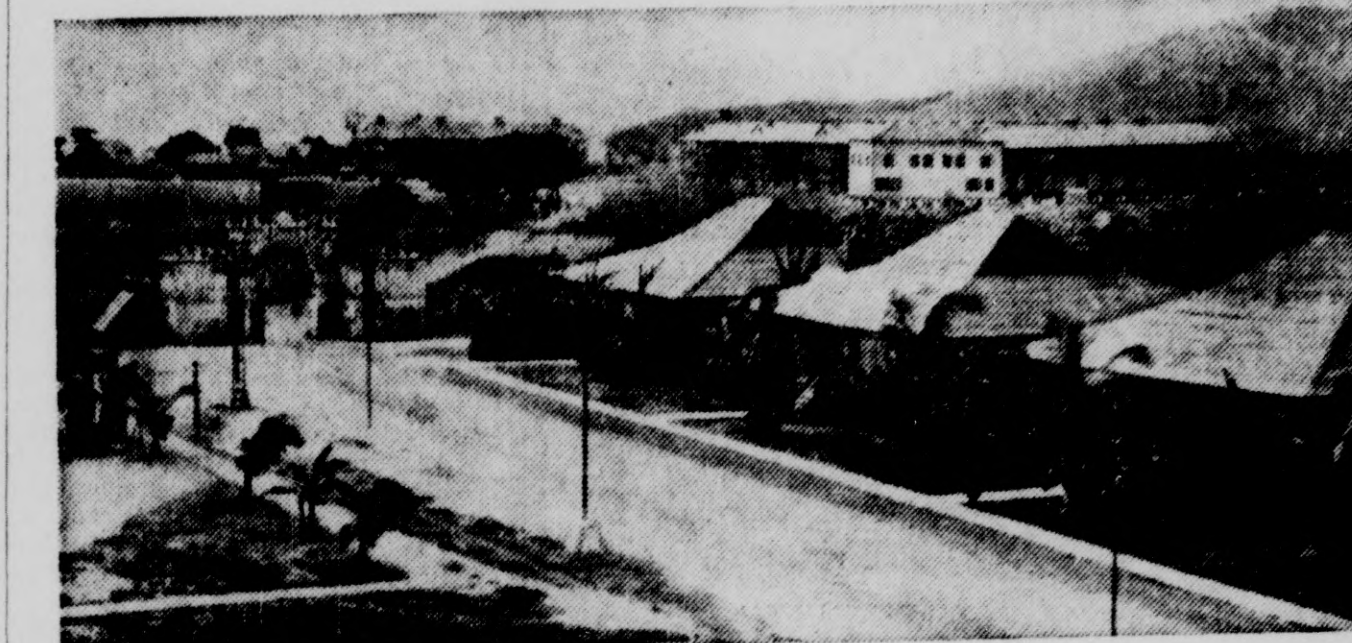

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Registration of women for work on farms next spring and summer is almost a certainty if the war continues, officials in the office of civilian defense and department of agriculture said today.

With the draft and high paying industrial jobs drawing heavily on farm labor, an acute shortage of rural workers by next spring is predicted, and the only untapped source of labor left to keep the vital food production program rolling will be women.

The agriculture department was reported "giving serious thought" to the problem of drafting girls for field work, while the office of civilian defense considered it to be a "virtual certainty."

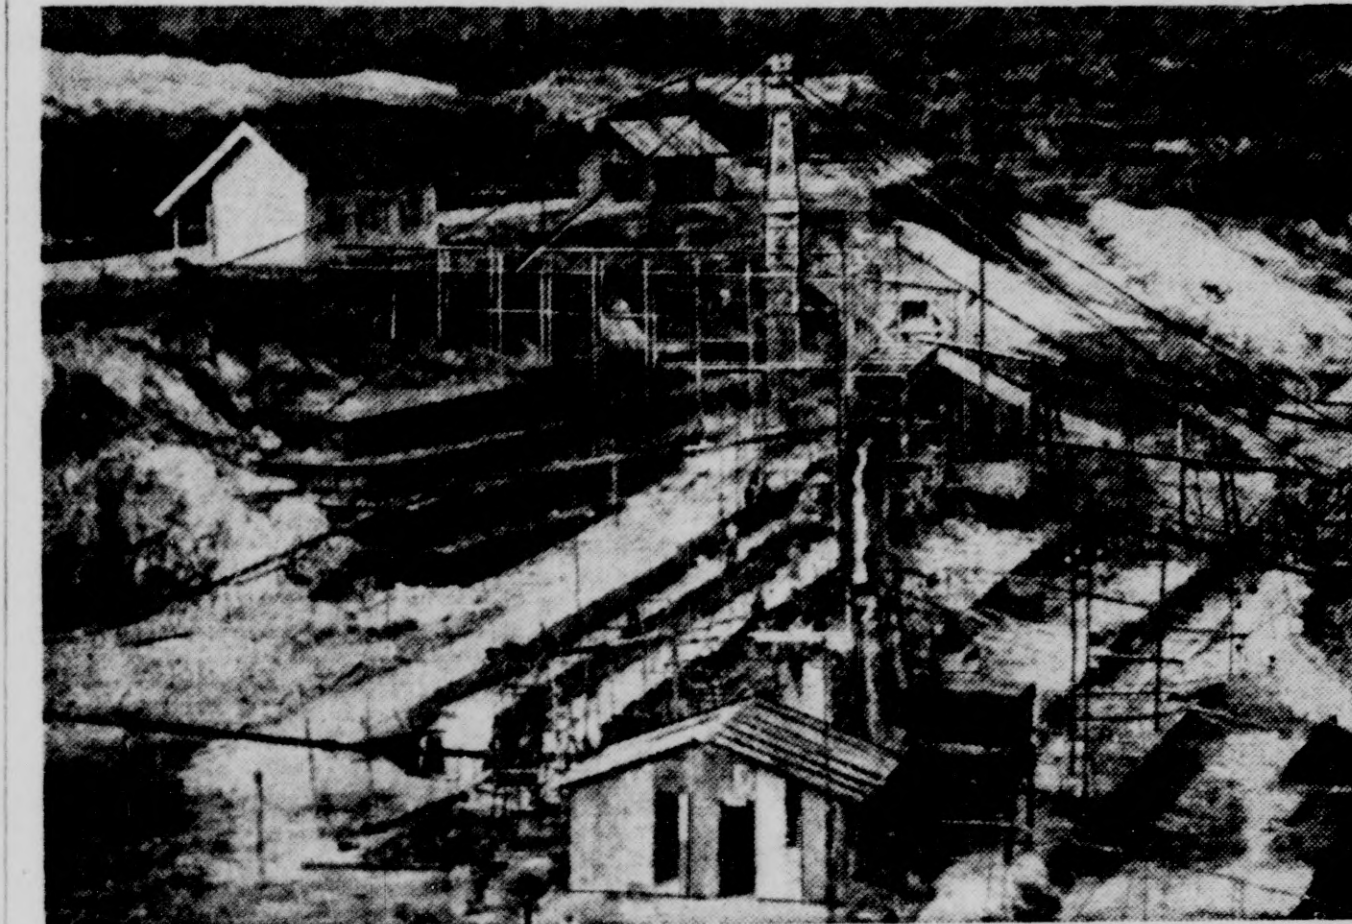

Furs, when being stored, should not be crowded into suit cases, boxes or small closets in which the fur is pressed flat.

Philippine Base Attacked by Jap Planes

Here is a view of Olongapo, marine and naval base in the Philippines, with the barracks seen in the background. Eleven Japanese planes were reported shot down in the first raid on the base, which is 50 miles west of Manila, and Clark Field, north of the capital. (Central Press)

Philippine Mine Coveted by Japanese

The fact that the Philippine Islands are rich in minerals has not been too well publicized. This huge chrome mine provides rich chrome ore, a metal necessary for defense production. These mines are much coveted by the Japanese who have landed several expeditionary forces at various points of the Philippines. (Central Press)

Where the British Are in Trouble

Attached to the British forces, Malay soldiers man a trench mortar unit in a Malayan tapoca plantation. These soldiers are experts in fighting in tropical jungles. The fate of northwestern Malaya and Penang, their principal city, was reported hanging in the balance as Japanese smashed into the peninsula in a desperate attempt to break through to Singapore. Britain Seeking Outright Military Alliance With U. S.

Joint Defense Of Vital Points
Is Sought By British Leaders

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Great Britain, it was learned on high authority today, is seeking what constitutes, in effect, an outright military alliance with the United States.

The basis of the proposed alliance is an agreement for unified action on the part of the English speaking nations to defeat the axis.

Great Britain wants the United States to agree to join action in planning the major strategy of the war and in defending vital points that become dangerously menaced by any one of the axis powers.

Under the present situation, the British feel they are responsible for defending Singapore and Malaya while the United States is responsible for defending the Philippines and Hawaii.

Likewise, the British feel they are directly responsible for defending the middle east while the United States is responsible for defending Iceland and other vital Atlantic points.

However, London takes the position that the vital interests of both countries are involved in the defenses of all these points. Thus the British feel the United States has a vital interest in preventing the Japanese from getting control of Singapore or British Malaya, while Britain feels a similar interest in respect to the Philippines or Hawaii.

Therefore, London wants an agreement that both countries will cooperate to the full extent of their ability in jointly defending one another's vital bases.

Practice Blockouts Under Strict Ban

Approval Of State Council Of Defense Must Be Obtained

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 19.—Communities were cautioned today not to conduct practice blockouts without the approval of the state council of defense and the commanding general of the U. S. Army first interceptor command at Mitchel Field, L. I., N. Y.

The state defense council added, however, that these instructions did not apply to practice alerts, which may be held without consulting the first interceptor command.

Simultaneously the state council disclosed that present plans call for the opening of air raid warden classes in every county on December 29. Twenty-five building engineers of the state department of labor and industry began training today for service as class instructors. Air raid warden classes in each county will attend classes from three to six hours a week for a total of 18 hours. Similar statewide classes for auxiliary firemen are being planned also.

Cincinnati Girl Is Proposed To By Soldier In Hawaii

Censor Listens In As Joseph
Chesney In Hawaii Asks
Girl To Marry Him

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, Dec. 19.—Ruth Gramke told friends today of a 4,000-mile telephone proposal of marriage she received from her sweetheart, Private Joseph Chesney, somewhere in Hawaii—with a censor listening in. The important point was that she replied:

"yes."

Chesney put in the call yesterday and the accommodating censor interrupted only once, this when the conversation strayed from its romantic subject matter. Miss Gramke asked about the Jap attacks and here the censor apologetically broke in with the admonition:

"Sorry, conversation of that type is not permitted."

Wake Island Fight Gets Volunteers For Marines

"If our Wake island comrades can keep fighting—as they must—on a 24-hour basis, the first tribute we can pay them is to keep recruiting new Marines on a 24-hour basis, too," Staff Sergeant John L. Dean, chief of the U. S. Marine recruiting sub-station at the Federal building, declared today.

Dean and two fellow officers have set up temporary sleeping quarters in the second floor Civil Service room, and since the war broke out have added 24 local recruits to the service. More are volunteering daily.

Recruits Miss Farewells

Sgt. Dean, well pleased with recruiting progress, spoke of but one thing which New Castle generally doesn't know—that is that the new Marines are leaving here in groups without the slightest farewell gesture from any group.

"It would be swell if some civic organization or a group of Legionnaires, could give them send-offs for their Pittsburgh trip and the service," the sergeant, a native of the city, said. "In most every city some organization has agreed to handle the farewells, and it cheers the boys a lot."

Sgt. Dean also spoke of the citizens and business men flying American flags—a custom in war-time. He said he has noticed Old Glory flying in sections, but he thinks everyone could well observe it.

Down at the Marines office the officers keep their ears cocked to the radio for flashes on the valiant band of Marines holding that strategic Pacific outpost for Uncle Sam.

"You can say for us that their courage is one of the most inspiring chapters of the Marines history, and many recruits coming in speak about it," all the officers agreed.

Sixty Rescued In Philadelphia Fire

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—Sixty persons were rescued by firemen today in an hour-long blaze which swept up through an elevator shaft of a four-story apartment building in West Philadelphia.

Although damage by flames was reported as not being great, huge clouds of thick smoke mushroomed through the structure, overcoming seven persons, including some policemen who were attempting to get residents on the upper floors to safety.

Officials theorized the fire started in the corridor on the first floor and then spread to the elevator shaft.

LONDON — Just posted to a squadron of heavy British bombers and ready for his first real "trip," 22-year-old Bob Hathaway from Tulsa, Okla., a sergeant-pilot in the R.A.F. has a word of advice for his friends back home.

"Fellows, don't join the walking army. It's a lot easier to do your fighting sitting down—and this is the best life in the world."

Hathaway, whose father is a motion-picture operator in Tulsa and president of the Oklahoma State Federation of Labor, was still in school when the war broke out. His two brothers are now attending college. Don is president of Phi Theta Beta fraternity at Manhattan college, New York, while Charles is president of Phi Lambda Chi at Northeastern.

To get here, Bob used some inheritance money that had just come to him to buy a ticket for Windsor, Ont. Once there, he enlisted in the R.A.F. and started training as a pilot.

"Different stages of the training," he says, "took me all over Canada—once to within 40 miles of Alaska—and finally on January 29, 1941, I had finished and was ready for England."

Stopped At Iceland
"On the way over—which was a pretty peaceful trip compared to some I've heard about—we stopped at Iceland for a few days. Then we got another ship and came directly here."

"It may surprise you, but more than 15 per cent of the squadron I've been with are Americans. There are fellows from just about every part of America."

"One of my best friends here, Sgt. pilot Ted Hale is from Oregon, Pat Paterson is from Chicago, Granville Jackson hails from my home town, Tulsa. One of the best fellows and best pilots we had, Carl Berasten from Far Hills, N. J., was killed a few weeks ago. I suppose we've got to expect that some of us won't come out of it when we join a fighting outfit—but it sure was a tough loss.

"We've been treated marvelously over here, both by the civilians and by the R.A.F. authorities. It isn't exactly the same as home—but it isn't too different either."

"The biggest single thing we miss, I suppose, is that it's so hard to find American cigarettes. It's a little different from home, too, in that everyone doesn't speak to everyone else here—but back home that's just the accepted custom."

Local Government Key To Democracy

Educator Says Local Government Last Level For Common People

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 17—Preserving and strengthening local governments in the present emergency is one of the best ways to maintain democracy, according to Dr. Harold P. Alderfer, Professor of Political Science and Executive Secretary of the Institute of Local Government at the Pennsylvania State College.

Calling the 2,500 local government units in Pennsylvania the "Anchors of Democracy," Dr. Alderfer declared that these are the "last level of government in which the ordinary man can be a part."

Pointing out that many former functions of municipal and county units, such as direct work relief programs, have been taken over by state and national governments, he advocated improving conditions in local units as a means of keeping the powers still left in this "integral part of democracy."

The corps draws upon a $1,888,000 appropriation for expenses which includes pay starting at $150 a day for privates. Speaker of the house Finner J. Titans Win, 69-33; Bethany Is Victim

Westminster Attack Is Drum-Majored By 'Buzz' Ridd And Dale Dummire

DUQUESNE NEXT FOE ON SATURDAY, DEC. 27

(Special To The News)

BETHANY, W. Va., Dec. 19.—With "Buzz" Ridd and Dale Dummire drum-majoring the offensive attack, Westminster college's Titans annihilated Bethany college's passers, 69-33, Thursday night at Bethany, West Virginia.

In bagging their third consecutive triumph, last year's Pennsylvania champions bombarded the hoops with 31 double-deckers and seven Annie Oakleys to amass their biggest count since the 1939-40 campaign when the Titans mashed Bethany 70-54.

Lead 36-9 At Half

Bethany held the lead once, at the outset of the battle when Miller canned a two-plier. Thereafter, the scorers were as busy as a Broadway traffic cop. As the first quarter whistle sounded, Westminster held a 16-3 margin. Gaining momentum in the second, the Washabaughmen putted shots from all angles. At the midway mark, Westminster held a 36-9 lead.

With every substitute on the bench getting a chance to display his wares in the second half, the fleet-footed Titans cakewalked to an easy triumph, their 23rd in 24 starts, dating back to the start of the 1939-40 season.

Ridd and Dummire emerged with scoring honors for the evening, each drilling the hoops for a dozen points. Lee Fox contributed nine juicy markers to the cause, Charles Goldblum, Pittsburgh freshman, flipped three double-deckers.

Westminster will enjoy a much needed nine day rest. The Titans' next foe is Duquesne's mighty Dukes, Saturday, December 27, at Pittsburgh.

Greeks-Baptists Battle Tonight

The St. George Greek basketball team will go after its fourth win in the New Castle church basketball league at the "Y" floor tonight when they battle the First Baptist team in the feature game on the card at 7:45 o'clock.

The "Fighting Spartans" lost another player to Uncle Sam on Monday morning when Angelo Lucas left for the army. However, Coach "Manny" Othites and his boys hope to carry on, and feel confident of taking the measure of the Baptists. In the second game the Mahoning Methodists meet the St. Marys team and in the third game the First Presbyterians meet the Central Christians.

West Florida has more lightning storms than any area in the United States.

Sharon High Here Tonight

Final Home Game Of Pre-League Season For New Castle High Tossers

HOPE TO TAKE FOURTH VICTORY

New Castle High School basketball team will play its final basketball game of the year 1941 at the George Washington High floor tonight when they battle the strong Sharon High team. The reserves of both schools will play the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

New Castle's next home appearance after tonight will be on Friday night, January 16, when Beaver Falls will play here in a Section Three game.

Sharon Fast Team

Sharon will bring a fast quintet here this evening, one that has already beaten Ellwood City and Greenville and a veteran combination.

No changes in the starting lineup are anticipated by Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh, he intimated, although young Joe Ciazza who played such a swell game against Youngstown East may get his big opportunity tonight to become a regular starter. Following are the probable line-ups:

IDEA IS GOOD

Eastern Pennsylvania sportsmen have been talking about organizing themselves into a trained civilian defense corps. They point out that most of them are veterans of the last conflict, know how to handle a rifle with skill and accuracy, and are in fine physical condition from rugged hunting and camping trips.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Corporal Clarence A. Cunningham of Harlansburg, who was killed on the West Coast in a bombing plane accident midnight Wednesday, was one of Lawrence county's most popular athletes. Cunningham was on New Castles' High's football squad in 1928 and in 1929. "He was one of the finest boys to ever report to me for football training," Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh said when he heard the mournful news.

Because hardly a week passes by in which someone doesn't write in to inquire about the New Castle-Massillon football series, we here-with again print the scores of the four games played, hoping to clarify the matter for the time being at least: 1936, Massillon 13, New Castle 0; 1937, New Castle 7, Massillon 0; 1938, Massillon 32, New Castle 7; 1939, Massillon 46, New Castle 0.

Paul "Lefty" Minner, the New Wilmington athlete who made good in the Southern Association league during the past summer, stopped in for a visit. The southpaw pitcher twisted his left wrist in every imaginable manner to convince us that the flinger, broken in a high school game, is as good as new. The 18-year-old ace is counting the days until he'll be back in the box.

Fuel for the stove league: The Browns boasted the best fielding pitcher in the American last season, Eldon Aukes the name. He handled 57 chances without miscueing. This gives the Browns something to show for the season. Why all the fuss about the relative strength of major league teams for next season? With the scrap across the way, can't see why anyone is wasting time on such a far-off topic that means nothing.

All-Star Pro Game Date Now January 4

Battle Of Behemoths Will Be Unfurled In New York's Polo Grounds

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Football's perennial battle of the behemoths—the annual all-star game between champions of the National Football league and the league all-stars—will be played on Sunday, January 4, Elmer Layden, commissioner of professional football, announced today.

The battle site will be New York's Polo Grounds. The proceeds, or part of the take in, will be turned over to charity.

A whale at birth measures 23 feet.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Jackie Wilson, welterweight, taught and piloted by Jimmie Dunn didn't let down his mentor in Cleveland last night round. He scored a TKO over rugged, hard-hitting Mike Kaplan in the third. While here Wednesday night Dunn told the writer he expected Wilson to win an expectation we chronicled in this column Thursday. Billy Soose left-handed his way to a 10-round decision over Jimmie Reeves in a light-heavyweight match. It was ex-Penn State boxer's first fight in that division.

Early Saturday, Dunn will grasp Wilson by the hand, lead him aboard a "rattler" for Los Angeles and there'll await developments toward things pugilistic. Red Cochran, welterweight king has been asked to fight Wilson in an overweight match for the benefit of victims of Pearl Harbor.

When Wilson returned to his home town, Cleveland, he took on Sammy Secret and won easily. In our opinion, had he extended himself, he could have batted out the ex-amateur and while we like Fritz Zivie and Cochran, we'll take Wilson if he meets either.

In Miami tonight Cochran will take on Bobby Britton, son of Jack, once one of the greatest welterweights in the world. They will appear in the Miami Herald's Christmas Stocking Fund show. Red should have no difficulty easing in over Bobby.

There'll be more than mere interest tonight in the Angott-Jenkins, lightweight championship fight. Many who went to W. J. remember George Tucker, boxing coach. He started Angott in that city. Tucker sent Angott here to box for the writer in the Jolly Bowl. Jenkins is a harder puncher than Angott. Because of his playboy tactics Jenkins is an enigma pugilistically, hence its a fairly difficult task to type a prediction about him.

How many baseball fans remember Ollie Carnegie, outfielder who played here many years ago for the Italian Athletic association? He later joined and is yet a member of the Buffalo Bisons in the International league. He is yet doing patrol duty. However, he now carries a rifle on his shoulder as a protector of a steel company oil-pump station in Buffalo.

Local Cagers Busy; Play On All Fronts

Eight Hoop Battles Tonight Involve Local Quints; Three Frays Here

Lawrence county basketball aggregations will be active on all fronts tonight as they continue swinging around the practice belt.

Three of the eight frays will be unfurled on local courts. Sharon's crack hoopers bounce at George Washington junior high floor for a joust with New Castle high, Ursuline high of Youngstown takes on undefeated Bessemer in the Geneva City while Union Township is host to Grove City.

The other teams ride the buses for their encounters. East Brook, which displays signs of developing into a smooth aggregation, plays Zelenople high.

Wampum high hopes to regain its winning form in its clash with Monaca high. Shenango Township's green squad takes on Mercer high. Well rested New Wilmington flips against Brookfield and Mt. Jackson is paired with Petersburg. After tonight's games, Bessemer, Shenango and Mt. Jackson high discard competitive basketball until after the holidays.

MEADE IMPROVING MIAMI—Don Meade, the nation's leading jockey, underwent an extensive operation, but it is reported that he has recovered and will be seen under silks at Tropical Park.

Dickey Still Best Catcher In Majors

New York Yankee Backstop
Leads American Leaguers;
Caught 102 Games

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Bill Dickey may be nearing the end of the trail as catcher for the New York Yankees, but the official fielding figures for last season dispute the belief held in some quarters.

The tall Arkansan led all the regular catchers in his circuit in fielding with an average of .994, or two points better than Rick Ferrell of the St. Louis Browns.

The durable veteran Yank receiver caught in 102 games to set a record of having caught in 100 or more games for 13 straight seasons, and he increased his total of games since 1928 when he joined the Yanks to 1,518 to pull a little closer to the all-time major league mark of 1,756 set by Gabby Hartnett.

PROSPECTS' GLOOMY
This war may knock the props from under the 1942 football campaign. As an example, 21 of the returning players at Duquesne will be eligible for the draft and at Pitt, 19 veterans will be eligible for war duty. And that's the way the situation stacks up at virtually every college in the country.

Angott-Jenkins Battle Tonight

Lightweight Championship
At Stake In Garden Bout
Tonight, Angott
Favored

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Lew Jenkins, a cadaverous party who looks as if a mess of corned beef and cabbage wouldn't do him any harm, and Sammy Angott, a rugged substantial citizen, are scheduled to travel 15 rounds for the undisputed lightweight championship of the world in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Angott is the current NBA title holder and Jenkins is recognized as boss in New York state.

Angott is an 11 to 5 choice and probably will be 3 to 1 at the ring-side. This is an apparent overlay against one of the hardest punchers the lightweight ranks ever saw, but the fact is that the odds are based on the night life proclivities of Jenkins rather than on the respective fighting merits of the two men.

Jenkins was soundly trounced in his last two fights chiefly because he was in no condition to fight. He has been in the hospital for this one but the Broadway bookies are not convinced he has confined his beverages to milk and tea. Hence the odds.

Angott is a good sound performer. He doesn't pack Jenkins' punch but he can take a punch better than Jenkins and he figures to out-box the skinny Texan if the fight goes the limit.

Organized Baseball Will Buy Equipment For U. S. Soldiers

Baseball Moguls Plan To Raise
$100,000; Fund Already Reaches $25,000

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Organized baseball today planned to raise $100,000 for the purchase of baseball equipment for Uncle Sam's soldiers.

Details of providing camps with balls, bats and other baseball paraphernalia were worked out by President Ford C. Frick of the National league, Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, and Maj. Ted Bank, director of athletics for the army's morale branch.

Griffith said that complete plans for purchase and distribution of the equipment will be announced later. The first $25,000 has already been raised. Each major league has donated $2,000, the Baseball Writers Association $1,000 and the other $20,000 was obtained from the office of Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis.

At least $75,000 more is expected to be raised through the annual major league all-star game next summer, according to Griffith.

FAIR or FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Of all the teams that will go into action in New Year's post-season football games, Duke's Wade-coached Blue Devils will be the standout favorites of the day. They are regarded as a breeze against Oregon State, despite the well-known and sometimes sorrowful fact that more dope upheavals occur in football than in any other sport. Oregon State could contrive to prove this point all over again.

Duke's pre-eminent position is based on three facts, or assumptions:

1—That Duke's record for the year is indicative of tremendous strength even though the Duke schedule was unimpressive: 2—Teams built by Wallace Wade generally are a good bet when the chips are down; 3—Oregon State won't be any the better for the journey all the way across country into a strange clime and locale. With the Rose Bowl game now transferred from Pasadena to Durham, N. C.

Steve Lach Good
There are some other considerations, too, one of them being a half-back named Steve Lach, who will be on there in the bright light before the home folks of Carolina to prove that he deserves his place on many of the foremost All-America elevens. Wade calls the big Pennsylvanian the equal or superior of any player in Duke history.

He had a lot to do with Duke's fine, unbeaten record last season and with the 311 points scored by his team. You are led to believe that he contributed even more to holding opponents to 41 points, for according to the legends coming out of Carolina he was and is one of the greatest defensive stars ever to cut capers on any gridiron.

FAMOUS SOUTHERN CLUBHOUSE WILL BE USED BY ARMY

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS.—The most elegant clubhouse in the South during the Elegant Eighties will soon be a club again for Uncle Sam's boys.

Built in 1882 for the Pickwick Club, the second oldest club in the United States, the four story structure is now undergoing complete rehabilitation to serve as a United States Army Officers' Club.

In the same huge ballrooms, there are four of them—where debaucheries danced during the Mardi Gras season, and in uniform will do it up the modern way.

When not in use for boogie-woogie the ball rooms will serve as game rooms with shuffle-board, ping pong, badminton and billiard equipment.

In a rear section of the building there will be a lounge fitted out in overstuffed furniture with writing desks, paper, pen and maybe typewriters. For the boys' dates there will be a parlor for them to powder their noses. Another section will provide showers and a lounge for the boys.

Sandusky Arsenal Damaged By Blast

Two Workmen Injured As Blast Rips Through New
$40,000,000 Plant

(International News Service)
SANDUSKY, O., Dec. 19.—Two workmen at the Plum Brook ordnance plant today were recovering from injuries received when an explosion of undetermined origin rocked the new $40,000,000 arsenal.

The injured men were Austin James, 23, of Oberlin, and Louis Harlan, 51, of Sandusky. Both were in a Sandusky hospital, James with leg injuries and shock and Harlan with burns.

Army officers at the plant described the explosion as "not serious" but added that all information concerning the blast would have to come from Washington.

Moreover, they waved aside inquiries concerning the possibility of sabotage or whether such was being investigated directing all questions to Washington.

SAYS NATION LAGS IN TRAINING MEN FOR SHOP CRAFTS

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore.—The United States is the most industrialized nation on earth, but it is lagging seriously in the training of apprentice craftsmen, in the opinion of William F. Patterson of the Federal Department of Labor.

In Portland to inspect apprentice school in action in the northwest, Patterson declared:

"So far as we can determine there are only 61,000 apprentices being trained throughout the country."

"We should have a half-million—conservatively—in normal peacetime. Hitler had a million, with only half our population."

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The stock market firmed today following its substantial decline through the two preceding sessions. Gains generally were small, but a few issues climbed a point or more.

Helpful to the market was demand encouraged by a belief the list was due for at least a technical correction after its recent plunge to new 3 1/2-year bottoms.

Allied Chemical ran up 2 points, while Air Reduction gained nearly as much. Dow advanced about a point.

Other stocks to climb a point or more included U. S. Steel, Western Union, American Smelting, Continental Can and American Tobacco 'B'.

American Can, meanwhile, dropped a point to a new 1941 bottom of 64. Liggett & Myers 'B' fell more than a point.

Motors steadied after their recent tumble into new low ground. General Motors and Chrysler each gained a fraction.

Building shares were among the weak issues, with U. S. Gypsum off a point to a new low.

Commodities generally were quiet and steady. Cotton rose about 50 cents a bale, while wheat advanced fractions. Bonds held within narrow limits. The London stock market drifted irregularly lower.
